Local Labor To Question 'Buddy Plan'

Seventy delegates of the Lincoln Central Labor Union, AFL-CIO, voted unanimously Friday night to send a committee to question city officials and investigate the policeman-fireman "buddy plan" and the discharging of a fireman for refusing to carry a gun.

Committee members who will visit city officials Saturday morning and attend the Monday council meeting in regards to the investigation are Kenneth P. Lewis, secretary-treasurer of the Central Union; Duane Cade, vice president; William Fields, executive board member; Vernon Allen and Mrs. Gladys Murphy.

Lewis said the group will question Fire Chief Paul Feaster, Police Chief Joe Carroll, Safety and Welfare Director Emmett Junge and other city officials who are now studying the plan.

Two problems which will be put before the city officials by the labor union representatives are:

1. How long will the fire-police integration program be on a trial basis, and who will decide whether the plan is successful?

2. Was the firing of Fireman Robert Lybarger made "on just grounds?"

Lewis said that discussion at the meeting brought out the general discontent of firemen with the system which required them to ride in police cruisers during part of their duty period.

Firemen Attend

Several firemen attended the union meeting Friday and told of several incidents during the city officials' visit to Station 1. They said firemen were not allowed to finish their comments on their objections to the "buddy plan."

Lewis said the union committee will ask city officials Saturday whether it was a fair decision that a man who took a job as fireman, who his religious scruples would permit, was fired as a policeman because his religious scruples would not permit him to carry a gun.

Chief Feaster earlier had termed the refusal to carry a gun and subsequent firing for insubordination "an isolated incident" and indicated that the plan was working out "satisfactorily."

Delegates attending the meeting represented members from almost every Lincoln industry.

Preferred Rates

The question of whether Lincoln would lose its preferred fire insurance rates because of the cutting of men in fire units was also discussed. Firemen present testified that several units were now below minimum strength required for the premium fire rates because of special duty assignments of firemen with police cruiser officers.

In other cities where the integration plan has been put into operation, fire insurance rates went up, the group was told.

Lewis said that the committee would make every effort to find out if the "trial period" for the integration plan would be a "six-month or ten-year one."

EAST PORTION OF NEBRASKA TO BE COOLER

Western Nebraska was to be partly cloudy and warmer Saturday, with the eastern part of the state turning cloudy and warmer Saturday night.

The Weather Bureau said high temperatures were expected to range from 30-35 degrees in the northeast to 50-55 in the southwest.

The northwest might get light snow as that region turns colder Sunday, the weatherman said.

Winds gusting up to 35 and 45 miles per hour over the state Friday, with visibility obscured in several parts of the state by blowing dust. Yellowish dust clouded the skies over Lincoln and other areas.

Friday highs reached 50 at Grand Island, where a morning snow flurry quickly melted. Light snow also was reported at Omaha and Norfolk.

Other Friday temperatures included highs of 49 at North Platte, 48 at Imperial and 47 at Lincoln. Omaha had the state low Friday with an 18 degree reading, while the Lincoln Air Base, Imperial and Scottsbluff recorded 19 degree lows.

McKelvie Estate Lists $948,000

The estate of the late Gov. Samuel R. McKelvie is listed at $948,000 by an appraisal filed in Lancaster County Court.

The appraisal figure, listed for inheritance tax and administration purposes, did not include $30,000 transferred as gift prior to death.

The widely-known rancher and publisher died Jan. 6, 1956, at his Meza, Ariz., ranch home.

The estate breakdown was stocks and bonds, $671,068.80; dividends, $1,638.32; miscellaneous assets, $204,725.10, jointly-owned property, $41,327.18, and gifts, $29,706.54.

Stock holdings included McKelvie Publishing Co., 3,750 shares at $390.300; Continental National Bank of Lincoln, 1,333 shares at $78.647, and Gulf Oil Co., 540 shares at $49.140.

A $160,826.40 balance on a sales contract for his famous "By-The-Way Ranch," sold prior to his death, was listed.

His estate, subject to certain life interests, was left in trust for the "Sam and Martha McKelvie Foundation" to provide assistance for students in the University of Nebraska's college of agriculture and for students in political economy.

Also included would be 12 psychologists, the minimum recommended. There now are five.

Dr. Wittson said there are 18 doctors in training in Nebraska who will be graduated in July.

Part of the nine-point program would include greater emphasis on out-patient treatment and more private care of patients receiving that experiments have proved the "vapor from one cupful of carbon tetrachloride, in a poorly ventilated room, can cause death."

Another student, Richard Rens, told the committee of experiments his class had conducted using the chemical on small animals. He said the results proving the toxic qualities of the compound convinced the class that "people should be adequately informed of what it can do."

Lorry Eickmann told the committee he had talked with owners of several cleaning establishments at Seward who informed him they had stopped using the fluid in their work about five years ago because of its dangerous properties.

Student Dorothy Anderson, reporting on effects of the compound, said illness or death could result from breathing too much of the vapor or by absorption through the skin from frequent use, as well as from drinking it.

State Health Director Dr. E. A. Rogers told the committee he wanted to confirm everything the young students had said about the toxic qualities of carbon tetrachloride.

AF Puts Base Hospital In Its Budget

The Air Force announced it has included plans for a Lincoln Air Force Base hospital in its budget for fiscal year 1958 and will submit to Congress a request for these funds, approximately $2,800,000, according to Washington sources.

Congressman Phil Weaver, in a telegram sent late Friday to Lincoln Chamber of Commerce General Manager Arch Baley, said:

"I have been advised by John Ferry, assistant in charge of military construction for the Air Force, that funds for the Lincoln Air Force Base Hospital have been programmed for 1958, and are being included in budget requests to be submitted to Congress shortly.

"If funds are provided, construction could begin this fall. In addition, the Air Force has also programmed $50,000 for a dispensary on the base."

In a telephone call from Washington, John Ferry told The Lincoln Star that funds allotted for the hospital were "approximately $2,800,000," which he expects Congress to approve sometime in June.

Ferry said, "I feel very confident we'll get the money because it's a recognized need."

The Air Force has submitted previous requests to Congress for funds for the LAFB hospital, but they were denied in both 1955 and 1956.

There has been considerable controversy over LAFB medical facilities for more than two years, including alternate proposals that the Air Force share quarters with the Lincoln Veterans Administration Hospital or that the VA turn over the hospital to the Air Force.

The proposal that the VA facilities be shared was termed "unworkable" by many top officials and the idea of turning over the VA hospital to the Air Force was vigorously protested by veterans' groups.

The question was resolved last October when the White House announced the VA administrator had decided to keep the hospital in Lincoln and not transfer it to the Air Force.

New plans are being drawn for the LAFB hospital and Weaver said they are expected to be completed in April.

Former plans had called for a 100-bed hospital and previous fund requests totaled about $2,600,000.

Informed of the Air Force proposal Friday night, Col. Perry M. Hoisington, commander of the 818th Air Division, said, "We're elated with the progress to provide our air base with the medical facilities we need."

John E. Curtiss, chairman of the special Chamber of Commerce Airbase and Veterans Hospital Committee, said:

"This is indeed good news for the men of the Lincoln Air Force Base and their families on whose behalf we have been working, not only with Congressman Weaver, but Senators Hruska and Curtis and many government agencies."

Governor Victor Anderson expressed his pleasure with the news of the progress and said: "This will make the base complete and give it the necessary facilities to make it a good base."

VOTERS VEXED AT MACMILLAN

People Turn To Laborites

Continued Gas Rationing And Rising Living Costs Resented

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government is in serious trouble with the British electorate.

With gasoline rationing dragging on and the cost of living still rising, the tide of public opinion is flowing toward the Laborites for the first time since they were swept out of power in 1951.

Five special parliamentary elections in the last few weeks have shown an anti-government swing of between 5 and 6 per cent in the voting. That is enough to put the Laborites back in power with a majority of 100 seats in the House of Commons if the trend were maintained in a nationwide general election.

The Conservatives lost a seat to Labor in one of the contests.

Thurs day's election at Warwick and Leamington, former Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden's old seat, was the most staggering blow yet to the Conservatives. They got their man in—but only by a 2,157 margin in a Conservative stronghold where Eden won by 13,466 at the 1955 general election.

There is every sign that Macmillan means to ride the storm and take the government through its full term. It still has three more years to run.

Macmillan gave a pep talk to a restive meeting of Conservative members of Parliament, telling them, "Don't get rattled." He sought to rally them with promises of better times ahead.

But sources close to the party said Macmillan has ordered a gingering up of the party organization in an all-out effort to stem the tide. He hinted to the meeting that next month's presentation of the budget may be a first step toward giving government policies a "new look."

Peter Thorneycroft, chancellor of the exchequer, may play a key role. If he can think up new ideas for easing the tax burden, he may win back many who have deserted the government in months of austerity.

Macmillan holds that present problems bear little relation to issues on which the next general election will be fought. Most Britons believe this will not be before 1959.

It is up to the government in power to decide when to call a general election. No matter what setbacks it suffers at special elections, it is under no obligation to resign unless it is defeated in the House of Commons on an issue of policy or confidence.

MILLION MORE ASKED FOR MENTAL HEALTH

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A stepped-up mental health program was outlined Friday to the Legislature's Budget Committee by Dr. Cecil Wittson, director of the Psychiatric Unit in Omaha.

The program would cost an additional $1.1 million from the state's general fund, Dr. Wittson said.

In a special appearance before the committee, Dr. Wittson said the trend in the increasing numbers of people seeking psychiatric treatment would be reflected in Nebraska.

This would mean a total, he said, of around 5,200 people in the state seeking such help.

4,300 Now

At present there are around 4,300 in state mental hospitals. The increase should come within the next biennium, Dr. Wittson noted.

The additional money would have to come from the $1.7 million decrease the governor effected in his proposed budget for 1957-59, as compared to the present biennium.

"We are not going to be able to stop admissions," Dr. Wittson said, noting the curve was going up all across the United States.

'Could Be Cut'

He told the committee if he were allowed to go ahead with his stepped-up program now, the total figure possibly could be cut to 3,600.

Dr. Wittson outlined a nine-point program of improved expansion in the mental health field. Included was addition of 29 psychiatrists to work in the state, especially in the three mental hospitals.

According to Wittson, the American Psychiatric Association recommended 60 for Nebraska. There presently are only 25. Dr. Wittson said the 60 was a minimum recommendation.

Seven More

Also included would be 12 psychologists, the minimum recommended. There now are five.

Dr. Wittson said there are 18 doctors in training in Nebraska who will be graduated in July.

Part of the nine-point program would include greater emphasis on out-patient treatment and more private care of patients receiving

... $500 Bribe Testimony Conflicts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Conflicting testimony by Mayor Terry Schrunk of Portland, Ore., and six other witnesses about an alleged $500 bribe was referred to the Justice Department Friday for "possible perjury prosecution."

The move was ordered by chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the Special Senate Rackets Committee.

Reoccupied

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force announced it has reoccupied the floating ice island in the Arctic Ocean known as the T-3, which it abandoned in September, 1955.

Five ski-equipped planes landed on the island, the announcement said. The landing was on rough snow and Arctic "white out" reduced visibility.

Children Testify On Bill They Sponsored

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

For what is believed to be the first time in the history of the unicameral Legislature, a group of seventh and eighth grade children appeared before a legislative committee Friday to give testimony on a bill which their classes had sponsored.

The students were from Seward Junior High School.

The bill, LB 521, introduced by Sen. Fay Wood of Seward, would include the chemical, carbon tetrachloride, on the list of poisonous compounds and require that it be properly labeled as poison.

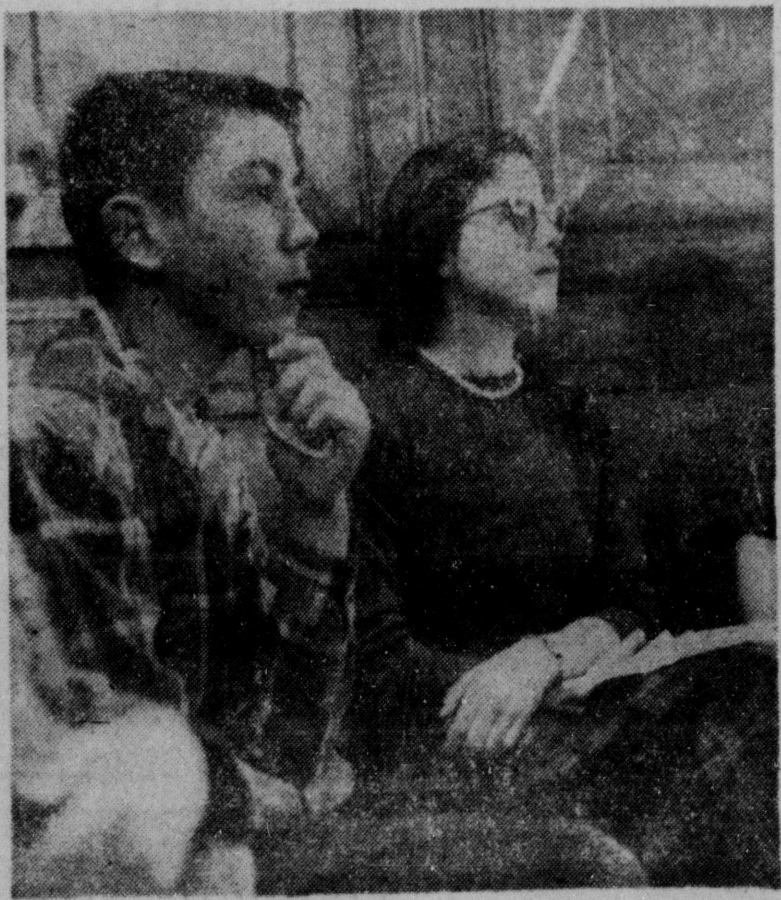

Advanced Unanimously

The bill was heard before the Public Health Committee, which advanced the measure to general file by a unanimous vote.

Five of the youngsters gave testimony in favor of the bill and explained their classes had made studies of carbon tetrachloride and found it to be a "dangerous and highly toxic chemical which can cause death or severe illness."

The chemical agent is used primarily in cleaning fluids and in fire extinguishers.

Ike Plans Trip To Florida

President Hopes To Shake Cold

... In Sunny Southland

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower hopes to fly to Florida next week and try to shake off the stubborn cold and cough that have been bothering him for several weeks.

A trip to some Western spot like Tucson, Ariz., has been talked about but ruled out because it would be too far away.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters the President's cough seemed "a little better this morning" but he still has a slight inflammation in the inner ear.

Hagerty said Eisenhower hopes and expects to leave Washington's wet, cold weather about the middle of next week and fly to Florida for five or six days.

Golf In The Sunshine

This would give the President an opportunity to play some golf in the sunshine before going to Bermuda March 20 for conferences with Prime Minister Macmillan of Great Britain.

Hagerty said the White House is looking around for a likely military post with a good golf course or perhaps a private home near a course, rather than a hotel. Whether this would be on the east or west coast of Florida, Hagerty said he couldn't say.

If arrangements can be worked out, Hagerty said he expected to be able to announce definite plans by Monday.

Eisenhower, whose cold dates back to the Jan. 21 inauguration ceremonies, began talking last week about the possibility of getting away to a warm, dry climate for a while. He mentioned Tucson as one possibility, but Hagerty said Friday this idea has been discarded because it would take five to seven hours to fly back to Washington, in case the need arose.

Only 3 Hours Away

Florida, he pointed out, is only two and a half or three hours flying time away.

The President told his news conference Thursday it would be rather awkward for him to get away from Washington at this time, with both Vice President Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles out of the country.

Eisenhower showed up at the news conference with a medicated cotton plug in his left ear and said he had a "little temporary difficulty with my hearing." Hagerty told reporters afterward that the President had a slight inflammation of the eustachian tube and had been under treatment by the white house physician, Dr. Howard McC. Snyder.

"It feels like a cold in the head; that is all," the President explained.

BENNET WOMAN, 80, FOUND DEAD; KNIFE WOUND

Mrs. Caroline Nelson, 80, was found dead Thursday in her home at Bennet.

Lancaster County Sheriff Merle Karnopp said her death was caused by a self-inflicted knife wound. A note left by Mrs. Nelson was also found, he said.

Karnopp said the body was found in a bedroom by relatives after entry into the house was forced.

Mrs. Nelson was a long-time resident of the Bennet area.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Bennet Community Church. Burial will be in Bennet.

Surviving are her daughters, Mrs. Mattie Harrison of Tecumseh and Mrs. Lillie Maves of Bennet; sons, Ernest of Denver, Colo., and Oscar of Panama; two brothers and two sisters.

Burlington Again Heads TPA Post C

William Burlington was reelected president of the Travelers Protective Association Post C, at the Post's annual meeting.

Also re-elected for another term were Francis Hoag, first vice president; Fred Ress, second vice president; Arthur Berkheim, third vice president; and Nathan Grossman, secretary-treasurer.

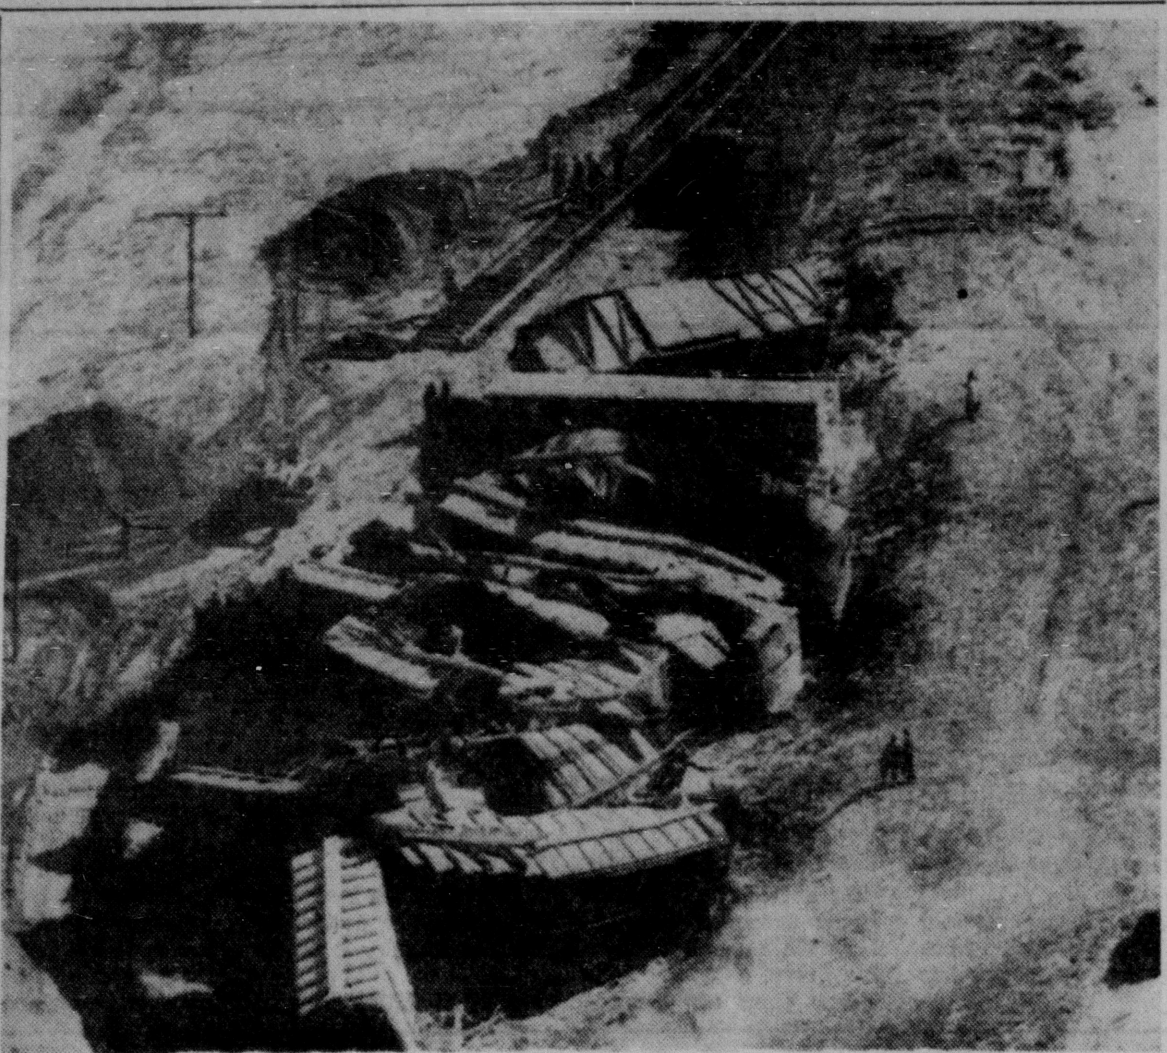

Elected to the board of directors for two-year terms were F. J. Vogelsang, Ed T. Hoffman, Frank E. Melker and Donald Schafer. Directors elected for a one-year term were R. C. "Bill" Mobley, Wayne Reese, Jacob Leback, John Maser Jr., and W. C. King.

A growth in the organization was noted by President Burlington in his annual report. The Lincoln Post now has a membership of over 1,500. He also cited the civic affairs activities of the Nebraska Division during the past year.

Omaha Sailor, 21, Dies Of Accident Injuries

PANAMA CITY, Fla. — William J. Kratochvil, 21, of Omaha, a sailor who was one of nine persons injured in a traffic mishap, died Friday in a hospital here.

Six other sailors also were injured in the accident, which involved two cars and a motorcycle. It occurred on narrow Hathaway Bridge just west of here.

Last Block In Canal Is Tackled

... 8 Boats Pass

CAIRO — Egyptian engineers Friday began preliminary work for removal of the sunken tug Edgar Bonnet, the biggest obstacle still blocking the Suez Canal.

But regardless of when and how the canal may be put in full use, Egyptian officials made it clear that they intend to bar Israeli shipping.

Eight small boats, all under 300 tons, cleared the canal Friday, making it the biggest day's traffic since the waterway was closed more than four months ago. Larger ships cannot make the passage until the Edgar Bonnet is disposed of.

Egyptian authorities have withheld permission for the U.N. salvage fleet to raise the tug, claiming it was loaded with explosives that must be removed first. (Non-Egyptian observers considered this an excuse to delay the canal clearance until after the Israeli withdrawal — now completed — from the Gaza Strip and Egypt's Aqaba Gulf Coast.)

Still Waiting

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler (U.S.A. ret.) said from his U.N. salvage operation headquarters at Ismailia that he still is waiting for Egyptian permission to begin work on the Edgar Bonnet and the Egyptian frigate Abukir. The Abukir was sunk four miles from the southern end of the canal and the Edgar Bonnet near Ismailia.

Wheeler said the salvage vessels are ready to move to the Edgar Bonnet at once and begin work immediately.

The Egyptian Middle East news agency predicted Thursday night that Wheeler's go-ahead would be delivered within 24 hours. He said he had no idea when it would come. But the beginning of preliminaries by the Egyptian engineers indicated it might be Saturday.

Quakes Destroy Twenty Villages

ATHENS, Greece — Earthquakes destroyed 20 villages in central Greece Friday. The Interior Ministry said one death had been confirmed and at least 50 persons were injured.

Most casualties were in five villages in the Voros area. Fifteen other villages were razed near Larisa.

Volos, all but wiped out in a series of quakes two years ago, was hard hit again.

Volos police said about 300 houses damaged by the quake of 1955 were destroyed.

Police at Larisa said 50 houses were damaged there and villages to the south were in ruins.

Two-Car Collision Injures Bless, 47

Charles Bless, 47, of 5350 Colfax, suffered fractured ribs and a laceration on the chin in a two-car collision at 9th and M Friday.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital and was reported in fair condition early Saturday morning.

Also injured was Mrs. Kenneth Beeten, 21, of 142 A, who suffered a bump on the head. She was treated at the hospital and later dismissed.

Police said Bless was riding in a westbound car on M driven by Lester Prince, 42, of 4512 N. 60th, when the vehicle collided with a southbound car on 9th driven by Kenneth Beeten.

Mrs. Beeten was a passenger in her husband's car.

FLORIDA SUPREME COURT DENIES NEGRO'S PETITION

... For Admittance To All-White Law School

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — The Florida Supreme Court Friday threw up a states rights barrier to block immediate entrance of a Negro to the all-white University of Florida Law School.

The state tribunal took the action despite a year-old ruling from the U.S. Supreme Court that he be admitted promptly.

Relying on the "compelling duty" of the state to maintain the public peace and prevent violence, the Florida court in a 5-2 decision denied the petition of Virgil D. Hawkins for an immediate order requiring his admission.

MAYOR MARTIN: SEWAGE PLANT OPERATES WELL

Mayor Bennett Martin said he was "very favorably impressed" with the operation and equipment of the Sanitary District 1 sewage treatment plant at 22nd and Theresa.

Martin toured the plant Friday with City Attorney Jack Pace, City Public Works Director D. L. Erickson and district officials. Present planning of the two governments calls for transfer soon of the district's plant to the city.

It was in anticipation of this that the tour was set up, to acquaint city officials with the plant's operation.

Martin was told by Plant Superintendent Martin S. Fitzsimmons that the capacity of the plant was now being only about 75 per cent utilized. This, he agreed with Martin, means no capital additions to the plant should be needed for a number of years.

The district, Martin said, has done a very fine job on the plant and is justly proud of the development.

NSEA Backing Sales, Income Tax

The Nebraska State Education Assn. (NSEA) Friday was urging "active, verbal, vigorous support" of the proposed combination sales-income tax bill now pending in the state Legislature.

Being distributed were reports explaining the state's tax system, the provisions of the new bill and the effect its adoption would have on the various governmental subdivisions.

NSEA Secretary Don Kline said the organization "urges every person interested in good schools and good government to write his legislator and urge his favorable consideration" of the bill, LB 134.

Kline said the measure would produce a 4.26 per cent overall replacement of the property tax dollar.

Clara Gordon, 78, Funeral Monday

Funeral services for Miss Clara Gordon, 78, of 1227 G, a Lincoln resident for 50 years, will be held 3:30 p.m. Monday at Hodgman-Splain.

Dr. Frank A. Court will officiate. Burial will be at Louisburg, Kan.

A former school teacher, Miss Gordon was a native of Louisburg, Kan. She was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Frank Pfeiffer of Lincoln.

Another Invention

LONDON — Moscow Radio reports Soviet engineers have designed an ocean liner on which passengers cannot get seasick. The broadcast claimed the vessel will skim over waves at 42 miles an hour with the aid of underwater wings and special stabilizing propellers.

has been trying for eight years to gain admittance to the university. Hawkins' attorney, Horace E. Hill of Daytona Beach, declined to comment until he had examined the opinion. Hawkins also declined comment.

Thurgood Marshall, special counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said in New York "if Virgil Hawkins requests our assistance we shall continue our efforts to secure his prompt admission to the University of Florida Law School."

The majority opinion, written by Justice B. K. Roberts, recognized the duty of the state court to compel Hawkins' admission "if it is feasible to do so at this time."

Violence

But the majority said it was convinced that violence would break out in university communities and a critical disruption of the university system would occur if Negroes were permitted to enter white schools at this time.

Emphasis On Aviation Urged By Sorenson

WASHINGTON — A Nebraska educator suggested Friday that the nation's colleges and universities place greater emphasis on aviation.

Frank E. Sorenson, chairman of the University of Nebraska's department of educational services, said it is inconceivable that U.S. education would "continue to go on its merry little way, largely disregarding aviation when our nation's first line of military and economic defense depends upon the country's ability to build, service and fly the latest in aircraft."

Sorenson told a conference of educators, sponsored by the National Aviation Education Council, that he need to "change earth-bound teachers to air age instructors may well be teacher training problem No. 1 the United States."

He said college directors of instruction should immediately start planning on-the-job training in aviation, and recommended a study of approaches to the subject taken by the University of Miami, the University of Illinois and the University of Nebraska.

"If 100 widely-distributed universities and colleges training teachers in 1957 would undertake an on-the-job training program in air age education for their respective staffs, the result might be a true revolution in teacher training, especially at the pre-service level," Sorenson said.

$50,000 Boat Sinks; 4 Rescued

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — Four frightened pleasure yachts were picked up by a freighter Friday from a wave-tossed rescue raft two hours after their $50,000 craft keeled over and sank.

Mahlon O. Bradley, 65-year-old retired Chicago investment banker, his 37-year-old wife, Martha, Jonel E. Jorgelusco, skipper of the yacht Dragon, and Edward Roker Jr., the mate, were brought into port here by the Coast Guard cutter Travis.

The Dragon had reported by marine telephone that she was sinking 40 miles off Fort Lauderdale. Lt. Cooper Welch, Miami Coast Guard pilot, flew out to drop a raft only moments before the Dragon went under.

"The pilot dropped the raft right in our laps," said Bradley. "If he hadn't, we might not be here now."

After dropping the raft, Welch circled and released flares until the freighter Atlantic Exporter and took them aboard. A transfer to the Coast Guard cutter was made two miles off Fort Lauderdale.

"You've never experienced anything compared to the loneliness and fright of being put out in the ocean in a small raft," Bradley said. "I can't tell you how one feels but I know you pray."

The Bradleys had been house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Hart on Great Stirrup Key in the Bahamas for three weeks.

"We were just returning home and never dreamed the boat wouldn't stand up," Bradley said.

OMAHA — Mrs. Margaret Deerson, still bright and alert although hard of hearing, celebrated her 103rd birthday Friday.

"Now, I'm in my one hundred and fourth year," she boasted.

Mrs. Deerson lives at the Lutheran Old People's Home here.

A native of Germany, she came to Nebraska in 1869 and lived for many years at Papillion, Millard and Gretna.

Several months ago she underwent a successful operation for removal of a cancer but came through it "admirably," her doctors reported.

Marine Convicted

Illegally 'Touched' Young Recruits

PARRIS-ISLAND, S.C. — A strapping, six foot, two inch instructor was convicted Friday night on four minor counts of illegally touching recruits.

After deliberating for nearly four hours, the special court-martial board found Cpl. William R. Walsh of Lyndhurst, N.J., innocent of 20 other charges of recruit maltreatment.

In finding Walsh guilty on the four charges of illegally touching recruits, the court reduced the severity of the original charges by removing the words "struck" in each incidence and changed it either to "tapping" or "touching."

After returning its finding the court adjourned until Saturday at which time it will reconvene and consider a sentence.

In its finding the court threw out charges that Walsh had struck the government's chief witness, Pvt. David Lee Porter, 18, Hartford, Vt., in the head. It did find Walsh guilty of touching him illegally.

6 Months Jail

Had he been convicted on all charges, the 25-year-old Walsh could have been given a bad conduct discharge, a reduction in rank to private, six months imprisonment and loss of all pay during confinement.

Earlier, the defense had sought to impeach the testimony of the government's chief witness, Pvt. David L. Porter, 18, of Hartford, Vt.

Porter testified he had been struck twice on the head by Walsh, causing a scalp abrasion, and at least twice in the stomach. Under cross examination by defense attorney Fred W. Shields of Mount Vernon, Va., Porter conceded he had told conflicting versions of his head injury to fellow recruits. He admitted he told some he had been struck by Walsh, others that he had tripped and struck his head on a bunk.

Pvt. Carol L. Smith, 25, of Philadelphia, Pa., said that on Dec. 6 he saw Porter "picking at" a superficial scalp abrasion, and that Porter told him, "if I pick it enough I will either go to sick bay in the morning or get some drill instructor in trouble."

Other witnesses testified that Porter's reputation within the recruit platoon for truthfulness was poor.

Twenty-three deaths were counted in February, compared to 21 in the same month last year.

The two-month total stood at 32 compared with 45 in the same period last year.

February victims this year included 15 persons killed in two-car accidents, 10 in one-car mishaps, one pedestrian, four killed at railroad crossings and two killed on farm tractors.

Twenty-one of the 32 deaths occurred at night.

City streets accounted for five deaths and county roads for eight.

Former Trooper Says Grandsinger Slapped

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

A former Nebraska Safety Patrolman stated in an affidavit filed in U.S. District Court that he saw Cherry County Sheriff William Freeman strike convicted slayer Loyd C. Grandsinger the morning of April 9, 1954.

John R. Skinner, the former trooper, states that Grandsinger was handcuffed and the cuffs were celted to his body while enroute in a Safety Patrol car to Valentine.

Sheriff Freeman, according to Skinner's sworn statement, "repeatedly cursed and verbally abused Grandsinger... pulled his hair on different occasions enroute... and slapped him hard in the face with his right hand numerous times while holding him by the hair with his hand."

Skinner, now an Omaha salesman, also said the sheriff told Grandsinger he "need not worry as they would get the confession out of him" for the fatal shooting of Patrolman Marvin Hansen.

Skinner's affidavit was filed by Grandsinger's attorneys in his habeas corpus proceedings before Federal Judge John W. Delehant. Judge Delehant has ordered the proceedings reopened March 23 at 9 a.m. in connection with motions to allow testimony by Skinner and cross-examination of a previous witness for Grandsinger.

'Surprise' Story

Omaha Atty. Eugene O'Sullivan, court-appointed attorney for Grandsinger, made an accompanying affidavit that Skinner "voluntarily contacted" him in making the sworn statement last Thursday evening and the former trooper's disclosures "came as a complete surprise."

The Skinner affidavit substantiates testimony given by Grandsinger and Francis Dale Shepperd of Springfield, but contradicts testimony of Sheriff Freeman and Safety Patrolman Curtis Cochran of Fremont.

The former trooper also states that Cochran told Shepperd and myself "to point our revolvers at Grandsinger's head in case Grandsinger should try to escape." (Cochran was the driver of the patrol car.)

Asst. Nebraska Atty. Gen. Ralph D. Nelson had previously moved the court to allow further cross-examination of Skinner.

Traffic Toll Goes Up In February

The two-month total stood at 32 compared with 45 in the same period last year.

House Ag Leaders Huddle For Compromise Plan On Corn-Feed Grain Bill

Criticism On Cost Worries Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — House farm leaders, worried by criticism of the cost of their new corn-feed grain bills, went into a huddle Friday seeking compromise plans that would require no new government outlays.

Rep. Poage (D-Tex.), acting chairman of the Agriculture Committee, reported "progress" was made at the meeting and added: "I think there is a 50-50 chance of getting a bill we can both agree on."

Republicans and Democrats have split sharply on rival bills designed to reduce overproduction of corn and other feed grains with resulting price drops.

A meeting of the full House Agriculture Committee was called for Saturday morning to try to agree on one of several compromise plans which Poage said were advanced at Friday's closed-door session of key farm members.

Back To Committee

A Senate Agriculture subcommittee meanwhile bucked the whole issue back to the full committee. The subcommittee sent seven different bills to the full committee for possible action next Wednesday.

The House, after two days of raging argument, decided Thursday night to knock off until next Tuesday to give tempers a chance to cool.

The main issue is whether Congress should expand soil bank subsidies under a measure backed by the Democrats or support corn prices under present law as proposed by various Republican bills.

Rep. Arends of Illinois, the assistant House Republican leader, said some legislation is needed because "corn farmers are in trouble" over price-depressing surpluses. But he called the Democratic plan to enlarge soil bank payments a "political monstrosity" and a "grandiose giveaway."

Speaking for the Democrats, chairman Cooley (D-N.C.) of the Agriculture Committee told the House Wednesday that Secretary of Agriculture Benson gave away 179 million dollars to corn growers last year in a fruitless attempt to reduce plantings.

Great Production

"Instead of reducing production he had the greatest production in the history of America," Cooley said.

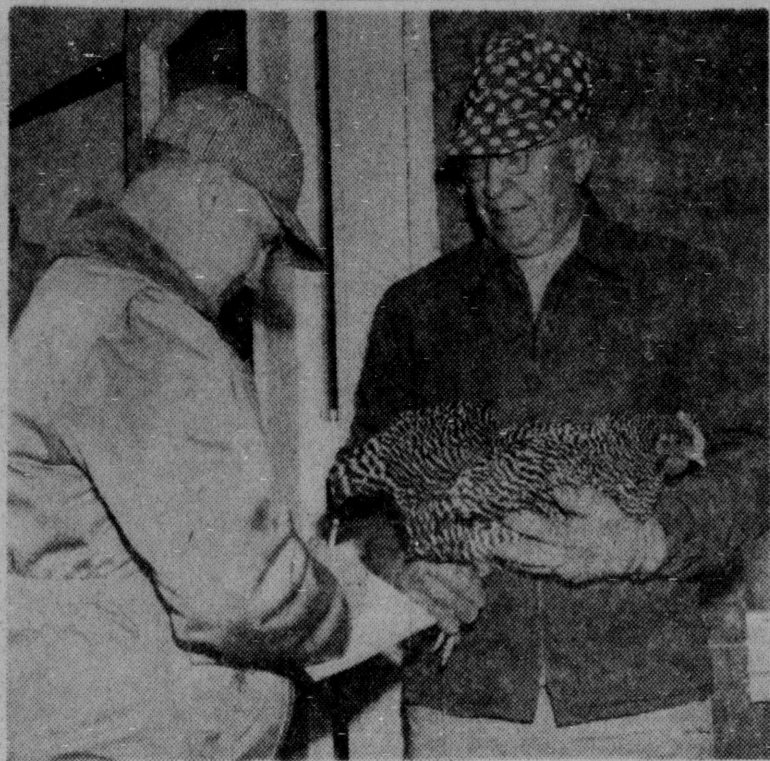

Before adjourning the debate until Tuesday, the House voted 187-180 to kill the first-choice Republican proposal of Rep. Andresen of Minnesota, senior GOP member of the Agriculture Committee.

Andresen's bill, drawn along lines proposed by Benson, would have set a new three-year national corn planting allotment of 51 million acres with price supports at a minimum of 75 per cent of parity. It also would have permitted corn growers to put 15 per cent of their corn acreage, or any other tillable cropland, into the soil bank reserve. Under the soil bank system, payments are made to farmers to reduce production of surplus crops. Parity is a formula designed to give farmers a fair price in relation to their costs.

Andresen, emerging from Friday's meeting before it broke up, told reporters he would not accept the Democratic proposal to pay subsidies not only to commercial corn farmers in the Midwest but to feed grain growers anywhere in the country.

High-Stakes Party

BUDAPEST (AP)—Police enforcing Communist Hungary's ban on gambling arrested lawyer Gyorgy Hertzfel. They reported 25 persons were in his apartment playing chemin de fer for high stakes. Also carted to jail was a guest who had 14,000 forints (about $1,270) in his pocket he could not account for, police said.

2,600 Airmen, 20 Civic Clubs Take Part In Unique Program

More than 2,600 Lincoln AFB airmen and 20 Lincoln civic organizations are participating in a community relations program believed to be the first of its kind anywhere.

Under the program, a Lincoln group adopts a squadron of airmen, the businessmen and airmen get acquainted, and airmen become honorary members of the civic group.

The plan was the brain-child of Byron Dunn, president of the National Bank of Commerce.

"This is a completely new concept in community relations and to my knowledge has never been done in the Air Force before," said Lt. Col. Thomas H. Powell, deputy base commander, who is in charge of the program at the base.

Day Rooms

The civic groups also are sponsoring a program to furnish day rooms in dormitories for the airmen to "help them feel they have a home away from home" at the base.

In addition, more than 1,500 Lincoln families have shown an interest in the program and plan to invite airmen to their homes and churches, according to Dunn. Each family will be assigned a few airmen.

Dunn commented he has had the project in mind for some time because "the problem of keeping Lincoln Air Force Base airmen occupied in their free time falls on everyone's shoulders."

Carousing

"When there is nothing to do in the dormitories, the airmen pile into cars and go carousing around the countryside."

"Making the squadrons more comfortable and providing games and other amusements will help greatly and make the men happier. We are also planning programs to raise money to equip the day rooms," he said.

Maj. Erving B. Berk, commander of the 818th Supply Squadron, and his men met recently with the Bethany Lions Club at an informal dinner.

Vaccine Shortage

In the best judgment of Dr. E. A. Rogers, state health director, Nebraska has enough polio vaccine to last another fortnight to a month. After that it is a matter of speculation as to how much and how soon state preparations for spring immunization can proceed.

Dr. Rogers disclosed that manufacturers' stocks of the vaccine have been depleted by the sudden upswing of national interest in immunization. The unexpected shortage will have to await new production schedules. Conceivably the shortage will continue through the entire period of spring treatment—the period most urgent of the year in terms of polio defense. He indicated the possibility that several of the large clinics planned across Nebraska will have to be postponed.

In assessing this latest piece of distressing news one must conclude that the nation has performed less than well in the general handling of the great vaccine discovery. If, as Dr. Rogers says, the situation is one expected to cause a "crisis" in Washington, leading among other things to a return to the allocation system of supplying states, it is evidence of a lack of watchfulness and realistic planning. Meantime, Nebraskans are to be advised that when supplies again become plentiful, promptness of treatment is sound counsel. A public, taking too much for granted, has itself contributed to the present problem.

A Measure Of A Program

Ovid Martin, business writer for the Associated Press, remarked this week the farmers are not taking full advantage of the government's multi-billion dollar price support program. It caused him to conclude that they are losing millions of dollars in potential income as a result.

We are glad he brought the matter up. Unquestionably he is right in reporting that the Benson program lacks a good deal in the way of producer participation. But his conclusion implying that farmers do not know what is good for them could stand examination.

Martin noted that Illinois farmers are getting but $1.16 a bushel in the open market for their corn. They could get $1.52 a bushel if they sealed their corn under the price support program.

Mr. Martin could have gone further to note that there is a growing tendency in Nebraska as well as in other corn states to grow for the open market, risking a lower price. What he didn't probe deeply enough to learn is that while the per bushel price is a matter of interest and concern to the producer, he perforce runs his business on his total dollar intake. The acreage restrictions of the soil bank may give him a slightly higher return per bushel and even a subsidy for his unproductive acres, but when the total dollar return is not sufficient the producer must consider the alternative of all-out production, even at a lower per bushel price. And if the producer acts in character of free enterprise with solvency as his goal he will choose the course of best promise.

The necessity of life and survival does not compose a criticism of the farmer. But it does call for scrutiny of a federal farm program whose conditions are its weakness and whose weakness can be traced to a combination of its cost and inability to recruit sufficient participants to achieve its goal of production.

Job Upon Job

Gov. Victor Anderson, the news columns state, has requested the legislative budget committee for funds to hire a full-time comptroller to ride herd on state spending agencies.

It is entirely possible that a capable, hard-boiled comptroller might prove a good investment for the people of Nebraska. There is one thing which will not save money, however. That is the practice of piling job upon job, adding to the number of places to be filled, or responding to requests for more and more services of government without pointing out to the people what these added services cost them.

We are not wasteful as a state. We have an admirable record when it comes to economy. But Nebraska faces certain limitations and certain handicaps which other states escape. Nebraska's economy is not sufficiently diversified. We are too dependent upon agriculture. We have little by way of mineral wealth, and are limited when it comes to industry. Industry has been slow in taking advantage of the opportunities Nebraska offers.

There are certain economies which can be adapted under the present pressures without harm to the state. We travel too much. We use the telephone or a telegraph where a letter would do, in many cases. We prepare a lot of annual reports which no one reads and no one wants to read.

But in the main, government in this state has been good—frugal, exacting, handled in the spirit by those responsible as any man would handle his own business.

There is one thing, if we're going to practice economy, that will bear fruit.

It is to stop creating new jobs.

Editorial Of The Day

Water: Basic Resource

(From The New York Times)

The United States has an average rainfall of thirty inches a year. If this were evenly distributed it would be more than adequate for all our needs. But, as everybody knows water is not evenly distributed. At one and the same time there may be too much of it in upper New England and the headwaters of the Ohio and too little in the Southwest. Of course it is also unevenly distributed in terms of time, with wet years and dry years and cycles that the wise man can describe after the event but cannot predict.

It is easier to deal with floods than with droughts. Streams can be controlled by dams, reservoirs and catchment basins, as they are in the Tennessee Valley and to some extent in the lower Mississippi. A deficit in water is harder to supply. What is described as a 600-year drought has been developing in seven Southwestern states for at least nine years.

Being an ingenious nation, we naturally cast around for ways out. There are various ways of turning sea water into fresh or comparatively fresh water. The problem is to get the cost down to an economically feasible level. If we don't look out, however, we will be compelled to pay whatever it costs. One way of looking out is to plant the upper portions of drainage areas with water-retaining plants or trees and to build little storage dams on little streams. Another way is to stop mining the deep underground sources at a rate faster than that of any possible replacement. If we don't take pains our descendants may not go thirsty, but they may be rather poor and very dirty.

SEC Examines Manipulations

WASHINGTON — Most important stock manipulation in years has been going on under the nose of the Securities and Exchange Commission with that agency, charged with policing the stock market, holding no public hearings. It has, however, collected a lot of interesting data available to the public.

The manipulation involves the proxy battle between Hitler-refugee Leopold Silberstein and his Penn-Texas Company on one side and the old-line American family firm of Fairbanks-Morse on the other.

Fairbanks-Morse, whose scales have been a familiar sight on railroad platforms, farms, and factories for half a century, is fighting against being swallowed by a refugee who fled from Hitler to Holland around 1932, then went to England, Australia, Shanghai, and thence to the U.S.A. In approximately 10 years since he has built in the United States, he has built up one of the 500 largest industrial combines of the nation, and is now trying to take over Fairbanks-Morse.

Silberstein is a likable gentleman, whose status as a refugee has aroused sympathy and won him friends. However, his financial wizardry has raised the question of whether he is practicing the same tactics in the U.S.A. which have given capitalism a bad name in Europe.

Silberstein is head of Penn-Texas, the holding company which he developed and which now owns a dozen firms, most of them having defense orders from the government. As president and chairman, he draws $75,000 salary, plus expenses and a house.

COMMISSIONS TO SON-IN-LAW

He also operates a company called Uno Equities Corp., of which he owns 96 per cent. Uno is a brokerage firm, actually not much more than a telephone and a set of books.

SEC records show that Uno buys and sells securities that are being acquired by the Penn-Texas Company. It buys securities on the outside, then sells them to Penn-Texas on the inside, taking a commission on the sale.

Thus Silberstein operates a brokerage company, which, with the inside knowledge available from him, can make money from his transactions on behalf of Penn-Texas.

SEC records are quite clear on this. Anybody can take a look at them. The only trouble is that the average investor can't take time to go down to the SEC, dig out the records and read them.

However, here is one of the transactions, admitted by Silberstein, officially recorded by the SEC. Between Feb. 3, 1956, and Jan. 31, 1957, Silberstein bought for Uno 50,600 shares of Fairbanks-Morse stock for $2,595,349.13. This stock was then resold to Penn-Texas, of which Silberstein is president, with a commission paid to his Uno Equities.

Usefulness Of That Bargain Furniture

No woman is more than half a woman without some special enthusiasm to add sparkle to her personality, but I wish my wife's enthusiasm ran more to the sports shorts, like bird watching.

I realize that there are many people who would not call the ownership of an old wooden chest an occasion for active, enthusiastic participation, but these are people who do not know Mrs. F.

The chest is a hand-made relic of early America which came into her possession for the magnificent sum of $2 when she attended an auction in our neighborhood with definite instructions from me to bid on a Revolutionary period flintlock rifle. Some thief walked off with the rifle on a bid of $17.50 while Mrs. F. was counting her change to see if she could bid $20, so she came home with the chest instead.

She walked around the chest three times, got down on hands and knees to admire it, had me move it into four different places in the living room to see if we couldn't keep it there, and announced that it needed cleaning up. I had a suspicion that if she ever got the grime off of it she would discover she had bought an apple crate, so I agreed.

I was wrong. After three hours of washing, scrubbing, and waxing, the thing turned into a lustrous chest, complete with silver handles and embossed with the complete story of Rip Van Winkle cut into the wood in pictures. It had evidently at one time been some pampered child's toy box.

I admitted that it was pretty, and that the silver alone was probably worth $10, and then thought no more about it. Mrs. F.'s enthusiasm, however, was just beginning.

I discovered the trend it was taking when I missed all of my socks from a dresser drawer. I complained. Mrs. F. looked pained. She said, "They're in the toy chest. I was trying it out to see if it wouldn't be good for keeping your socks in."

She is not an unreasonable person, however, and saw almost at once that keeping my socks in the living room was not a tenable procedure. She substituted the kitchen silverware for them in the chest. That proved unworkable because it made too much work running back and forth from the kitchen to get a spoon or a fork. Reluctantly she removed the silverware.

In the next three hours I retrieved my clean shirts from the chest, removed my hunting jacket and shotgun shells from it, discouraged the storage in it of my office files and, finally, declared flatly that it was no fitting place to keep my comb, brush and other toilet articles.

The light of exploration was still in her eyes when I went to bed that night, leaving her sitting on the floor in the middle of the living room looking at the chest. By next morning the problem was solved.

As Mrs. F. explained it, "We can get you some more for the bedroom, but I've just got to have something to keep in the chest."

My socks were back in the box. (Chicago Sun-Times Syndicate)

Hall Case Shows Ike's Remoteness

WASHINGTON — Former Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall is not in the Eisenhower administration because Leonard Hall doesn't know this spring of 1957 just what he wants to do.

He knows very well what he wants to do in the early fall of 1958. He hopes then to be nominated and elected governor of New York. His problem is how best to draw a bead on that target.

All his considerable political experience teaches him that Washington is a poor place from which to run for a major state office. The title of master secretary, the plush offices and Mrs. Perle Mesta's dinner parties inflate the ego but they don't impress the boys in the backroom who make up the party states.

The backroom boys want to know the candidate personally, and what is even more important in their book, they want the candidate to know them.

Because successful national chairmen usually get a cabinet post, it has been assumed that Hall would. His friends in Congress have underscored their displeasure that he has not by giving him a party at which the President was a guest.

The President did not help matters by his negative approach to a press conference question about a job for Hall. "You are giving me some news," the President answered. He added that Hall was a fine American whose name would doubtless occur to him if he had a suitable post.

Superficially, this was a very cold shoulder. Actually the relations between the two men are cordial, nor has Hall any personal complaints about the palace guard.

The real significance of the President's remarks is much more ominous for the GOP and for the country. Mr. Eisenhower wasn't snubbing Hall; he was only displaying publicly how very remote he is now from the give-and-take of politics. A President alert to political realities would never have given the Eisenhower answer to the Hall question.

The next step is inevitable. A President remote from political realities, inaccessible to the politicians, loses influence with them.

It is becoming startlingly apparent, with the President's second administration not two months old, that his influence with Congress is waning fast. He is in difficulty on nearly every front and the trouble-makers are as apt to be Republicans as Democrats.

The Senate took a leisurely two months to enact a truncated, watered-down version of the "urgent" Eisenhower doctrine for the Middle East. The House is rebelling against his budget. Members make much of petty differences that for the first four years they never mentioned.

The whole trend, in short, is for members to put their local interests ahead of the national interest for which the President is and must be the spokesman. "Ominous" is not too strong a word for the situation.

—John 1:42

dom of God, and he thought as men do."

Peter's challenge was, in fact, the challenge that has faced all men in all ages, including our own. He had the same weaknesses, and some of the same strength. He fell asleep on the night of Gethsemane, following the Last Supper. In overweening self-confidence, he cried: "Lord, I am ready to go with thee both into prison and to death," then denied that he knew the Man.

But in his strength he defied the Roman emperors, and according to tradition, was crucified head downward by Nero in Rome. The church he established has lasted almost 2000 years, and is stronger than ever today.

Urban Renewal

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: LB 431, a proposed urban renewal authority for the city of Lincoln, is now the most dangerous bill, taxpayer-wise, before the State Legislature. The over-all proposal contains many phases of city-wide authoritarianism, including air-conditioning and a relocation of local families.

At the public hearing on LB 431 by the government committee, Omaha's Sen. Klavert stated that a similar bill caused a near riot at Omaha's City Hall. Here in Lincoln we have never needed and certainly don't want any slum clearance authorities.

We have come a long way without a multi-million-dollar city renewal authority. I think we will continue to travel in a safe and sound manner without its pretended assistance for the poor and the needy.

LEO N. BARTUNEK

Woman's Work Undone

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Bob McKay's article in the Sunday Journal and Star just tickled me pink. We had a new baby just this past Jan. 20. My husband stayed home to care for our other four children, and he and Bob led identical lives for five days.

He said as far as putting our girl's hair in a pony tail, he was "snuffed." He went one better than Mr. McKay. He'd brush her hair each morning and if it didn't turn out even, he'd snip the uneven hair off with the scissors.

His main problem was trying to cook the meals. He'd have to stop every five minutes to break up a battle among the children. He said he never got a bed made during the few days I was gone, and did the breakfast dishes with the supper dishes. He couldn't squeeze it all in the time he had. I think he summed it all up very well—"It's like throwing a man who doesn't know how to swim into a swimming pool and telling him to swim 50 yards."

He said he wouldn't trade places with me for all the money in the world.

Three Possibilities

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The following item from a recent farm publication expresses my views, also:

"Reports have the past year as one of the greatest in grain production, even with three of the worst drought years in Saunders County to seven years down south. This provides proof enough to any narrow-minded congressman that both Brannan and Benson's methods have failed."

"In Nebraska, 50 per cent of our corn produced was from 10 per cent of the corn acreage last year."

"There are three new possibilities: "No. 1 — Let bushels produced, not acres, be the limit, so poor upland farms with zero drought bushels are on an equal footing with 125-bushel-per-acre irrigated farms."

"No. 2 — Prohibit irrigation of any surplus crop for the duration. If drought is God's punishment for too much grain, why make drought farmers suffer further allotment average cuts when they haven't produced any the last three years? Nature is desperately trying to equalize our grain problem and yet more irrigators are defeating the constructive purpose Benson is seeking."

"No. 3—Prohibit the manufacture and sale of fertilizer. This automatically puts at least 30 per cent of the land in legumes and pasture like it was years ago. In summary, eliminating costly storage, ASC offices and subsidies money."

ALEX V. CARLSON

Help For Oppressed

Lincoln, Neb.

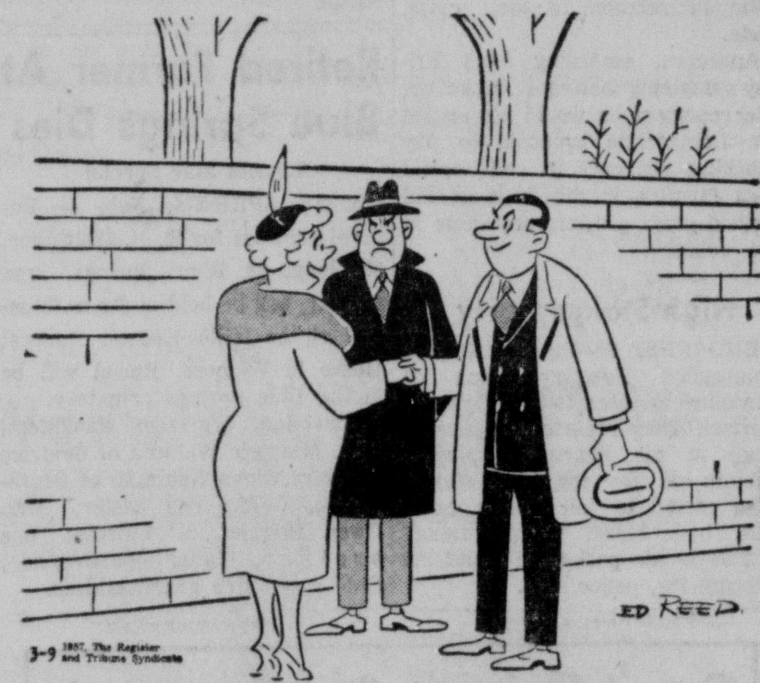

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I wish to help my fellow Hungarians who are hungry and suffering because of their struggle for freedom. By the help and goodness of the United States and the Lutheran Church I am living and am provided for in this country. Many thousands of Hungarians have escaped from Communism and have been given help by governments and churches, but millions remain in Hungary and suffer under the rule of Communism.

I think I can and hope I can help at least some of these persons even though I have no money.

No More Salk Polio Vaccine

... Dr. Rogers

By BETTY PERSON

Star Staff Writer

State Health Director Dr. E. A. Rogers said Friday he had been informed that "manufacturers' supplies of Salk polio vaccine have been exhausted."

The Nebraska health chief said he had learned the information in a phone call Friday from the Kansas City branch of the Public Health Service.

He said a sudden upswing of public interest in the vaccine has caused a drain on manufacturers' stocks.

Dr. Rogers said the Health Department has a normal supply on hand of approximately 30,000 doses which will last from two to four weeks.

Future Delivery Only

He said the Public Health Service officials told him manufacturers are now taking orders only for future delivery.

Dr. Rogers said that in his opinion this means it will be necessary to go back to the allocation system for the states which was in effect until August 1 of last year.

This would be done, he said, to insure equitable distribution of the vaccine.

Backlog Gone

"We have not stockpiled the vaccine," Dr. Rogers said, because it has a comparatively short expiration date—six months at the most from the time it is manufactured, and less than that by the time it reaches us."

The state health director said there was a possibility that several of the large clinics planned across the state would have to be postponed because "they take too large amounts of the serum all at one time."

It was Dr. Rogers' estimate that the current heavy demand for the vaccine probably will keep rising until the polio season reaches its peak.

Backlog Gone

An Associated Press story from Washington said the Department of Health, Education and Welfare had reported that a backlog of 26 million doses had been wiped out.

Department spokesmen said they believed, however, that many millions of doses are available for public use at various other stages of the supply pipe line. New vaccine also is being produced at an increasing rate.

These spokesmen said the backlog of unshipped vaccine on manufacturers' shelves stood at about 15 million doses in mid-February and added it was believed most of this now is in the hands of distributors, wholesalers, retailers, doctors and public health agencies.

The Public Health Service is engaged in a review of the supply situation, the Washington report continued, and may issue a statement within the next day or two.

Sidney Car-Truck Crash Kills Child; Three Injured

Wyoming Car Hit Icy Spot

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—A two-year-old Cheyenne, Wyo., girl was injured fatally and three other persons were hurt Friday in a car-truck crash 5½ miles southwest of Sidney.

Michelle Lynn Reiboldt died in a Sidney hospital several hours after the crash. The injured included her mother, Mrs. Lavonne Reiboldt, 22, a passenger in Mrs. Reiboldt's car, Miss Bernice Dillie, 17, Padroni, Colo., and Alvie Rathman, 39, Sterling, Colo., driver of the pickup truck involved. Mrs. Reiboldt was reported in serious condition.

Officers said Mrs. Reiboldt's car hit a patch of ice, went out of control and was struck by the truck.

Liquor Issue Is Placed On Crete Ballot

CRETE, Neb.—Crete residents will decide at the polls April 2 whether or not liquor by the drink can be served in local taverns.

The City Council passed a resolution to include the issue on the ballot after it was petitioned in by 20 per cent of the voters in the 1956 election.

Of the 252 names on the petition, 11 were removed due to errors in signing. However, only 109 signers were needed, under state law, to place the issue on the ballot.

School Districts Need No Vote To Build Garage

A Class II school district board has authority to erect a garage for storing school buses and school driver training cars without seeking voters' approval, according to a ruling from Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck's office.

State Education Commissioner Freeman Decker requested the ruling.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Gerald S. Vitamvas, who prepared the opinion, said that under Nebraska law a school board is authorized to construct "necessary appendages" for the schoolhouse.

"It is logical to assume that a reasonable cover to protect the vehicles owned by the school district . . . would be necessary," Vitamvas said.

State Received $42,670,000 In Subsidy Payments

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department report showed Friday that Iowa ranked first with $65,621,000 in direct subsidy payments to farmers last year.

The subsidies, which totaled $533,356,000 for the country as a whole, were made for farmer compliance with the soil bank land retirement program, a sugar production control program, for wool production, and for soil conservation.

Other major receiving states included: Texas $54,938,000; Nebraska $42,670,000; South Dakota $22,443,000; and Kansas $16,869,000.

Robbery Try In Courthouse Said Failure

ST. PAUL, Neb. (AP)—Burglars attempted to rob the Howard County treasurer's office, but were believed to have gotten no more than $1.

Desks and counters were ransacked and the combination dial was knocked off the safe, but no attempt was made to enter the vault. Stacks of automobile license plates were disturbed and authorities feared some might have been taken.

The $1 in known loot was a one dollar bill in the desk of Mrs. Edna Petersen, deputy treasurer.

Frank Komsak, courthouse janitor, discovered the break-in about 7 a.m. Friday when he came to open the building for the day.

Komsak said he noticed the back door had been pried open and deducted that burglars would have attempted to enter the county treasurer's office.

Door Forced

He found that the door to the treasurer's office had been forced and all shades in the office were drawn. Four drawers in the counter had been pulled out, but it was determined later that one drawer in which a small amount of change was kept had been overlooked. Empty money bags were strewn about, desks were ransacked and an attempt was made to open an office safe, but the vault was undisturbed.

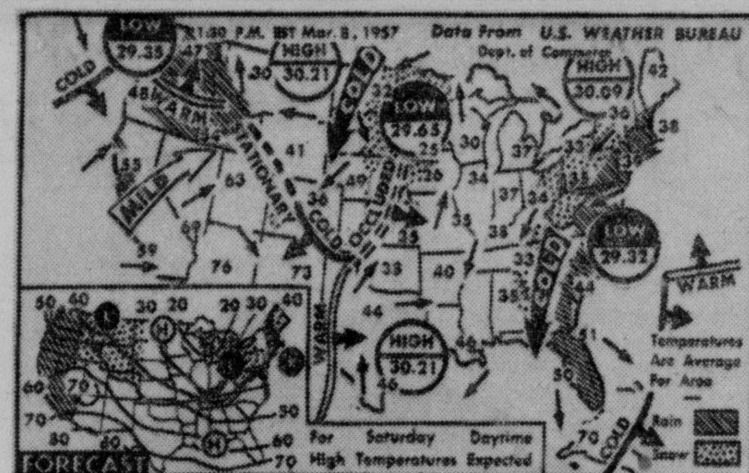

Howard County Sheriff David Schenck was notified and Mrs. Petersen telephoned the news to County Treasurer Harold McDermott, who was in Lincoln for a legislative meeting.

The office was immediately closed while Schenck sent for a fingerprint expert to examine the office. Employees were unable to open the damaged safe and Mrs. Petersen sent to Omaha for an expert to open and repair it.

Omaha's Federal Land Bank Marks 40th Anniversary

The Omaha bank has made more than 176,000 loans totaling more than one billion dollars. It is the largest of the 12 Federal Land Banks.

School Addition Proposed At Utica

UTICA, Neb. — Voters here will decide upon a $170,000 school bond issue at the spring election, Tuesday, April 2. The funds would be used to provide a new school addition.

Sandhills Boasts Own Flier Orvil Wright

Lincoln Star Special
CHADRON, Neb. — They say history repeats itself. Well, out at Chadron folks know it's true. Any nice day they might look up and see Orvil Wright out for a spin in his airplane.

It isn't the original couple, of course. The plane is a 90 h.p. Piper Cub, and the Wright is a sophomore at Chadron State College.

The 30-year-old Cherry County rancher-turned-scholar has been a flying enthusiast since 1946, when he grew tired of Sandhill roads and decided to take to the air. Whether his famous name influenced his decision is debatable. Orvil explains it simply, "I wanted to fly, so I started to fly."

Commutes Via Plane

Air travel gets to be a habit, in fact Orvil commutes between the college and his ranch home out of Whitman, Neb. every week-end.

Not only that, but he's been doing some fancy flying in educational directions lately, too.

After graduating from Mullen High School in 1944, he settled down on the family ranch, content to raise cattle and forget the trials of study — so the neighbors promptly elected him to the school board. Two years later he became president, and he held that position for eight years.

Then fate took a hand.

Due to the teacher shortage the school board was unable to find a teacher for the 1954-55 session. The county superintendent suggested Orvil. Loyal, but with misgivings, he agreed. He packed his bags and flew to Chadron State for summer school.

That fall he returned to the little country school where he had attended grade school, this time as a teacher. He taught six pupils that winter, and enjoyed it so much that he decided to try it again.

Yen For Writing

Last fall, after his second term of teaching, and with two summer sessions behind him, Orvil entered Chadron State full-time. He intended to finish the requirements for a two-year elementary certificate. But, by semester's end he was a captive and convert to higher education. He switched to a four-year secondary program with a major in English.

Orvil is a "natural born" English major. He harbors a yen for writing, and has been scribbling off and on, since his high school days. He likes poetry, and one of his poems was published in 1954. Music is another interest. He's always been adept at playing the harmonica, but after being in the Chadron State chorus last semester, he enjoyed it so much that now he is taking voice lessons.

Orvil might, because of his change in curriculum, have to attend an extra summer session before he receives his degree. After that — well, there are plenty of schools needing English teachers. Surely somewhere among them Orvil Wright can find a place with accommodations for his airplane, too.

Mrs. Ferguson, Ansley, Leaves 198 Descendants

A resident of Custer County since 1919, Mrs. Ferguson is survived by seven children, 50 grandchildren, 109 great-grandchildren and 32 great-great-grandchildren.

A native of Iowa, Mrs. Ferguson came to Nebraska with her family in 1880 and settled at O'Neill. Later they moved to Kansas where she was married to James Ferguson in 1883. They came to Custer County in 1919 and farmed until 10 years ago, when they moved to Ansley.

Surviving Mrs. Ferguson are three daughters, Mrs. Lena Jewell of Atkin, Minn., Mrs. Lillian Nitch of Bartlett and Mrs. Electa McVay of Ansley, and four sons, Ray of Miller, and George, Bert and Elmer, all of Ansley.

FHA Ousts Doane From Omaha Office

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leslie S. Doane, appraiser for the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) in Omaha, Friday was ousted from his job.

Richard Lomax, FHA director of personnel in Washington, said Doane was notified of his dismissal by letter. He said allegations that Doane made against a Nebraska FHA office could not be supported by facts.

Lomax said Doane's dismissal was effective at the close of business Friday. He said the action was taken "for cause."

Doane had charged that FHA officials in Omaha had extended favoritism to certain builders and had approved some "substandard" houses for FHA loans.

Lomax said Doane had given careful consideration to Doane's charges and could find nothing to warrant any further investigation.

Has Right to Appeal

Doane has the right to appeal the action to the U.S. civil service commission's regional headquarters in St. Louis.

Doane was notified Jan. 8 of the FHA's intent to separate him from the service unless he could substantiate his charges.

Doane, commenting on the ouster action, said he is "thinking about an appeal."

Declaring that he plans to remain in Washington until about Monday, he said he still contends "favoritism" was shown to certain builders. He said he would like authority to prepare a complete audit, under supervision, of appraisals "over the entire city of Omaha."

Weather Ahead

Extended forecast for Nebraska:

Temperatures are expected to average about 5 degrees above normal during the five days ending with next Wednesday, with warming trend except for brief cooling Sunday and Wednesday. Normal highs range from the middle 40s in the northeast to the low 50s in the southwest, and normal lows from near 20 along the northern border of the state to the upper 20s in the southeast. Precipitation is expected to average .05 to .10 of an inch in the east, and little or none in the west, occurring as light showers or snow flurries about Sunday.

NU Chancellor Gives Legislators Private Preview Of Budget

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer
Chancellor Clifford N. Hardin of the University of Nebraska made an unscheduled visit before the Legislature's Budget Committee in a preview of his budget presentation. The University is scheduled to be heard next Wednesday. Press reporters were told to leave the meeting, which was held behind closed doors in the Statehouse hearing room.

Salaries, Tuition
It was understood, though, that the meeting was a preview of the University's scheduled appearance before the budget group. Also, the primary talk Friday hinged on salaries and tuition at the institution.

Tuition presently is $90 a semester for resident students, but only $60 of this is used for operation of the school. The remainder goes to fees used for the Student Union, Student Health Center and others.

The request to the chancellor for the discussion Friday was made by Sen. William McHenry, Nelson dentist.

Cut By Governor
The University requested a total budget of $23,363,125 for its operation during 1957-59. This was cut to $21,084,000 in the governor's recommendations.

It was understood that the chancellor was questioned Friday on the University breakdown of salary schedules of present personnel and those proposed under the new recommendations.

The University was the only state agency or institution which failed to provide a salary breakdown in budgets prepared for the governor. These breakdowns list present salaries, such as for full professors, and the salaries as proposed in the new budget.

Considering Earmark
Gov. Victor Anderson, in his recommendations, went along with the University request for $2.4 million for salary increases. The governor also said he was considering requesting that funds be earmarked so they would be used exclusively for the intended salary increases.

Chancellor Hardin, in his budget request to the governor, had stated if the increases were not forthcoming, the University faced the possibility of losing some 200 teachers. This also was discussed at the Friday meeting.

The tuition question also faces the Legislature's Education Committee, which still is holding bills that would increase tuitions at the University and Normal Schools.

SHERIDAN COUNTY GROUP ASKS STATE MAINTAIN ROAD TO LAKE

Sheridan County residents lined up in force Friday to back LB 542 to put a 23-mile road from Rushville south to Smith Lake back on the state maintenance map.

Phil Gottschalk, Sheridan County Star editor, spearheaded the group. A county commissioner, Vic Stava, said he believed maintenance of the road wouldn't be "any burden" to the state.

State Highway Department figures showed maintenance cost $58,000 in 10 years before the 1953 Legislature took the road off the state maintenance map. Mrs. Ruth Hooper, president of the South Sheridan County Highway Assn., said one reason for keeping the road from Smith Lake north in good condition is that another 23-mile stretch of highway from Highway 2 north to the lake is being planned and ready for bids this July.

The road north, old Statutory Highway 250, was built and graded through $40,000 in contributions from the county, Gottschalk said.

VEHICLE LICENSING BILLS MOVE TO GENERAL FILE

Two measures pertaining to the method of licensing of motor vehicles Friday were advanced to general file by the Legislature's Miscellaneous Committee.

LB 523, providing that only one plate be furnished yearly to owners of every registered motor vehicle, was advanced to the floor of the Legislature on a 4-0 vote.

Sen. John Mummely, introducer of the measure, testified that issuance of one plate per vehicle would save the state at least $87,000 yearly in manufacturing costs, and perhaps another $50,000 in mailing expenses.

Governor's Request
The other license plate bill was one introduced by Sen. Arnold Ruhnke at the request of Gov. Victor Anderson.

The measure—LB 548—provides that number plates shall be furnished in even-numbered years and renewal tabs in odd-numbered years.

In testifying for the bill, Gov. Anderson said it would save the state at least $46,000 every biennium.

Also appearing at the hearing was Col. C. J. Sanders, chief of the Nebraska Safety Patrol, who said he was in favor of LB 548.

But he indicated that issuance of only one plate per car as provided in LB 523 would be a hindrance to law enforcement.

He contended that a pickup can be made on the highway only through the license plate or description of the motor vehicle and that only one plate per car would be a deterrent to extensive enforcement operations.

Two plates, he explained, would make stolen car recovery easier for the Patrol.

In further action, the committee advanced two other bills introduced by Sen. Ruhnke on the request of the governor, who appeared at the hearing.

LBs 549 and 550 both were sent out to the floor of the Legislature on a 4-0 vote.

LB 549 requires an annual inventory to be made of all state property by each state agency.

LB 550 provides for additional information to be placed on the tax receipt. The information, the governor testified, would let the taxpayers know where their taxes are going.

Pact Proposed By 2 Truckers Draws Protests

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP)—A proposed trucking agreement between Red Ball transfer of Omaha and Consolidated Motor Freight of Hastings was protested by three other carriers at a public hearing conducted by State Railway Commissioner Richard Larson Friday.

The protests were lodged by the Christensen Truck Line of Holdrege, Highway Motor Freight and Buckingham Transportation Co.

Red Ball and Consolidated have proposed an agreement whereby Consolidated would accept from Red Ball and deliver on Red Ball billings all freight destined for points west of Hastings.

All Freight Consolidated also would accept for Red Ball all freight tendered at these points and deliver it to Red Ball.

The agreement provides for service on Highway 6 from McCook to Hastings and on Highway 23 from Maywood to Holdrege and points on Highway 6, 34 and 30 between Holdrege and Grand Island.

Larsen said testimony would be considered by the full commission before a decision is made. The commission must approve the agreement if it is to go into effect.

Train Service Ruling Voided

... By High Court

The State Supreme Court Friday reversed a Thurston County District Court order requiring the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railroad to resume triweekly mixed train service between Omaha and Sioux City.

The railroad had discontinued the Pender-Sioux City leg of the route after July 18, 1950, when a bridge on the route was washed out by a flood.

Then in May, 1956, the railroad changed its triweekly service to biweekly between Omaha and Pender.

The state claimed both actions were in violation of State Railway Commission general orders because the railroad had changed its schedules without permission from the commission.

But the Supreme Court said circumstances did not permit the District Court to issue its mandamus order without notice to the railroad, since the facts of the case showed there was "room or basis for controversy."

The Supreme Court also:

Reversed and remanded for a new trial the Douglas County District Court decision in the personal injury damage suit of Clinton Bryant vs. Edmund E. Greene in which Bryant sued for damages which were dismissed in the lower court.

Upheld a Butler County District Court ruling in Julia Fiala vs. John G. Tomek in which Julia Fiala unsuccessfully sought court judgment in her favor for disputed title to land.

Affirmed a Sarpy County District Court ruling in Alstare Insurance Co. vs. Sebastian Enzler, a case involving title to an automobile, in which the court favored Alstare Insurance Co.

Reversed a Furnas County District Court ruling which had granted personal injury damages to Eldon Farr in his suit against the Cambridge Co-Operative Oil Co. The suit involved explosions which Farr claimed damaged his hearing. His suit charged the company with negligence.

Upheld a Lincoln County District Court ruling in Lefoy Holiday vs. Edwin L. Fichten, in which the District Court overruled a jury verdict awarding Holiday $11,654.64 damages arising from an automobile accident.

Upheld an Otoe County District Court ruling in John W. James vs. George McNair, in which the District Court ruled in favor of James regarding title to lands in Otoe County.

State Music Tax Brings In $5,810

A three per cent state tax on the "sale, licensing or disposition of performing right to copy righted musical compositions" during 1956 has brought the state $5,810.60, the secretary of state's office reported Friday.

This represents Nebraska's share of all fees and royalties paid during the year by radio stations, juke box operators and other users of "public music" to the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP), the office said.

Total gross sales reported by ASCAP in Nebraska last year, according to the office figures, was $193,686.51.

A new name on the list of summer brides-elect is that of Miss Barbara Dill whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dill of Belvidere, make announcement this morning of her engagement to Richard A. Beechner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Beechner.

The wedding is planned for late summer.

Miss Dill attended the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, and now is a student at the University of Nebraska School of Nursing in Omaha.

Mr. Beechner was graduated from the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He now is a member of the coaching staff and the faculty at Lincoln High School.

SUBURBIA

The Rock and Roll influence doesn't seem to have hit Park Manor but that's the way it might look because the pace of activities being set by our neighbors out that way is absolutely the most! News this morning concerns two newly appointed cheerleaders, the mystery of the fractured finger, a party with the "south of the border" influence, and several other gatherings of interest.

It is rather an unusual item to hear of a wife and mother becoming a boisterous, bouncing cheerleader, but that is just what has happened with two of our ladies in Park Manor. Mrs. Charles Dean and Mrs. Walter Stark will be making their first (and last) appearance in their new role on Tuesday evening as cheerleaders for the Clumsy Colonels from the Lincoln Air Force Base in their grudge battle for supremacy over the Corny Coaches of the University of Nebraska.

The mystery of the week revolves around Mrs. William Cook and her unfortunate finger. Seems that Mrs. Cook retired the evening of Feb. 27 fit as a fiddle, only to awaken in the wee hours of the morning with a fractured finger. Guess the question as to how, where, or when it happened will have to remain a mystery for no one has the answer, least of all Mrs. Cook.

Capt. and Mrs. Robert Morrison have returned from their two week skiing jaunt in Colorado with sound bones and sun tans. The Morrisons were fortunate enough to have been on hand during the ski trials performed by the cadets of the Air Force Academy during their winter carnival.

The vacation over, Capt. and Mrs. Morrison and their two children, Sharon and Max, are getting back into the swing of things this evening when they entertain at a dinner party at their home. The Mexican menu will be as authentic as it is delicious for Mrs. Morrison learned her Mexican cookery from a native of that country when she lived in San Antonio, Tex. Included among the guests will be Capt. and Mrs. Richard McKenzie and their son, Rick, and Capt. and Mrs. Carter Hart and their three sons, Carter III, Jimmy and Cooper.

To Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Becker of Pleasant Dale will celebrate their silver wedding anniversary at an open house on Sunday afternoon, March 10, at the Pleasant Dale Lutheran Church.

Their friends are asked to call between the hours of 2 o'clock and 5 o'clock without further invitation.

AJLA Officer To Make Visit

Mrs. Raymond C. Jopling Jr., of Oklahoma City, director of region X of the national Association of Junior Leagues, will arrive in Lincoln on Tuesday, March 26, for an official five-day visit with the Lincoln Junior League.

THIS morning we have the last chapter on the travelers who didn't travel—as far as they planned, at least. Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Drake are back in town from a cruise that took them only as far as Martinique where their ship, the Isle de France, was grounded. We told most of the story yesterday, but we learned from the Drakes that after spending four days waiting for the French Line to complete arrangements, they flew back to New York—and on home. Special planes were sent to Martinique to carry the passengers back to the States, but most of the crew remained with the ship, while awaiting passage back to France.

THERE was fun at the Officers Club on Friday evening when the Corny Coaches, the basketball team that is to play the Clumsy Colonels at the University Coliseum on Tuesday evening, and their wives were the dinner guests of the Clumsy Colonels and their wives. Also among the guests were the game officials and their wives—Mr. and Mrs. Don Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Becker.

ON THE Saturday night calendar is the Merryx Dancing Club party at Hotel Lincoln—We already have mentioned the party and the committee but this morning we have a guest list which includes Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kreymborg, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bourne, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Peterson, Maj. and Mrs. Vernon Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnston of Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Ulland of Broken Bow.

FROM Ft. Lee, N.J., this morning comes news of the birth of a son, James Chryst, to Mr. and Mrs. James Marlow on Sunday, Feb. 24. The young man has three doting paternal great-grandparents in Lincoln—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marlow, and Mrs. E. E. Carling. His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Marlow of Kansas City, formerly of Lincoln.

Square Dance Club Party

Members of the Circle Eight Square Dance Club will entertain at a dance Saturday evening at the Antelope Park pavilion. Calling the dances will be Jack Dill, and special instruction in round dances will be given from 8 o'clock to 8:30 o'clock.

Hosts and hostesses for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Felt and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knaub.

Legislative Ladies Meet

Guests of the Legislative Ladies League of Nebraska, which met Thursday afternoon in the faculty lounge of the Student Union, were Mrs. A. Leland Forrest and Mrs. Clifford Hardin.

An informal tea was served following the program, which featured a talk by Dr. Rezan Shinkaya of Ankara, Turkey, who is a graduate student in home economics at the University of Nebraska.

APRIL BRIDE-ELECT

BETTY LU NADEN

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Naden make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Betty Lu, to

T. Sgt. Leland B. Willett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence B. Willett of Mountain Home, Ark. The wedding will take place on Saturday, April 6.

TO BE JUNE BRIDE

MISS HARRIET ANN JOHNSON

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Harriet Ann Johnson of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude D. Johnson of Elmwood, to E. Larry Knee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Knee, is announced this morning by the bride-elect's parents.

The wedding will be an event of June.

Miss Johnson is a graduate of the National Business Institute.

EVENING CEREMONY

MRS. THOMAS G. WORSTER

At an early evening ceremony solemnized on Friday, March 8, Miss Joyann Krieger, daughter of Mrs. Adam Krieger, became the bride of Thomas G. Worster, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Worster. The lines of the 7 o'clock service were read by the Rev. W. W. Koenig at Calvary Lutheran Church before an altar appointed with bouquets of white and pink blossoms.

Mrs. Loran Powell was the matron of honor and her sister's only attendant and wore a full-skirted frock of blue taffeta. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Serving Mr. Worster as best man was Loran Powell, and seating the guests were Perry Worster, brother of the bridegroom, Jack Powell and Garry Powell, the bride's nephews.

For her wedding, the bride selected a gown of white tulle and lace over satin. A mandarin collar, traced with iridescent paillettes accented the molded bodice of lace which was designed with long, tapered sleeves, and the extremely full skirt of tulle ended in a train. A crown of jeweled lace held her illusion veil, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with pale yellow roses.

A reception was held in the parlors of the church after which the couple left for a wedding trip to the Ozarks. For traveling, Mrs. Worster wore a brown and beige tailored ensemble with brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Worster will reside at 3559 So. 51st.

KE ASKED: Where Can Budget Be Slashed?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee urged President Eisenhower Friday to "indicate" where "substantial reductions" may be made in his $71,800,000 spending budget for the next fiscal year.

The President has expressed hope Congress will find places to cut the budget.

The committee action, taken over Republican opposition, came as Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) renewed his call for a five billion dollar cut in what he called "a luxury budget."

The Appropriations Committee voted 22-12 for a resolution asking the President's guidance in cutting his peacetime record budget. The resolution still must be acted on by the entire House membership before going to the President.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) said the committee voted generally along party lines after beating down a Republican-backed motion asking the Defense Department to advise the committee how it could trim three billion dollars from the military budget.

The resolution set no deadline for the President to "indicate" if and where cuts may be made. Nor did it spell out what it might consider "substantial" reductions.

Cannon said he trusted the President would respond "promptly."

3 Teenagers Disappear, Join Rebels

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban Army headquarters Friday night instructed Army posts throughout the island to be on the lookout for three boys missing from their homes at Guantanamo U.S. Naval base in eastern Cuba.

The State Department in Washington said the boys presumably left home to join a group of Cuban rebels. U.S. officials expressed concern they might get involved in a clash between the anti-government guerrillas and the Cuban Army.

Neither the Cuban government nor the U.S. Embassy has been able to confirm that the trio actually joined the rebels.

The youngsters disappeared from the naval base at Guantanamo, in the eastern end of the Cuban republic. The rebel band is reported hiding in the Sierra Maestra Mountains, not far away, Cuban officials have said the rebel group is small, and is being hunted down.

The Navy said the missing boys are Victor Buehlman, 17; Charles E. Ryan Jr., 17, and Michael Garvey, 15.

The Navy said they were listed as dependents of James J. Garvey, chief machinist mate, home address 14 Carroll Street, Watertown, Mass.; Charles E. Ryan Jr., hospitalman first class, 7 Lemon Road, Monson, Mass., and Commander Joseph Buehlman, 352 Pomona Ave., Coronado, Calif.

The State Department said the U.S. Embassy in Havana had advised Cuban police and Cuban authorities of disappearances of the boys, and circulated descriptions of them.

Officials here said they had no information as to why it was assumed the boys had joined the rebels, except that reports from Cuba gave that explanation.

It Works

PLANT CITY, Fla. (AP) — Customers of J. N. Harold's news stand have a little trouble reading his clock. It's upside down, and Harold won't change it.

Harold says it stopped running six days after he bought it, so he threw it away. It landed in the trash can upside down and immediately began clicking away.

He nailed it up, upside down, and it has been keeping good time for 13 years without a miss.

Final Game For Both Teams

By DON BRYANT

Sports Editor, The Star
Jerry Bush's Nebraska Cornhuskers wind up their Big Seven basketball season at the Coliseum Saturday night, hosting the potent Iowa State Cyclones with All American Gary Thompson.

Game time is 8 p.m., with a preliminary contest between the NU freshmen and a campus team, "The Weiners," slated for 6:30 p.m.

The varsity game will mark the final appearance of three Husker cagers, All Big Seven Rex Ekwall of Holmesville, Billy Wells of West Baden, Ohio; and Bud Doeble of Elmwood. All are seniors.

Two Cyclones will be bowing out of collegiate competition, too—Thompson and Chuck Vogt, both starters.

Bush will start his usual combination of Ekwall and Don Smith at forwards, Ron Parsons at center and Gary Reimers and Lyle Nannen at guards.

Bill Strannigan's Cyclones, the No. 3 team in the league and the only club to beat Kansas this year, will open with Vogt and John Crawford at forwards, Don Medsker at center and Thompson and Lyle Frahm at guards.

Iowa State holds a pair of decisions over the Cornhuskers, 89-69 in the Big Seven tourney and 59-47 at Ames last month.

The game will feature two boys from small towns in their respective states who have captured scoring titles during their careers.

Ekwall has set a new Nebraska mark by tallying 835 points in 11 campaigns, while Thompson recorded 1,238 — top effort in an Iowa collegian.

Thompson just Thursday was named to the Associated Press 1957 All American team along with Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain.

Thompson, incidentally, will leave Lincoln by plane early Sunday morning for New York City. He's slated to appear on the Ed Sullivan TV show with other members of the All American team.

Gary is the No. 2 scorer in the conference with a 20.5 average. He trails Chamberlain, who has posted a 24.1 average. Ekwall and Reimers are ninth and 10th with 14.6 and 13.3 averages respectively.

Nebraska will carry a 10-12 record into the final contest, while Iowa State is 16-6.

Probable starters:

Nebraska	Iowa State
Cap. R. Ekwall (6-4) F	(6-6) C. Vogt
D. Smith (6-4) F	(6-5) J. Crawford
R. Parsons (6-8) C	(6-8) Don Medsker

Lex, Broken Bow In A Finals

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer
YORK — Broken Bow ended York's stranglehold on the Class A district basketball tournament here Friday night, and Lexington upset Holdrege 62-55 to set up the final match between two tall teams.

Height did the trick for both Lexington and Broken Bow, 66-53 winner over York.

York has won the tourney championship in 1955 and in 1956 but lost out to a second half rally by Broken Bow Friday night.

John Stevens and Paul Haumont, Broken Bow's 6-6 and 6-3 rebounders, turned the tide after York lead 31-26 at the Half-time.

Stevens finished with 28 points and Haumont got 22.

A 30-point outburst by Jim Huge wasn't enough for Holdrege to overcome the rebounding strength of Lexington's Monte Kiffin and Tom Sheldon.

Holdrege made a brilliant comeback to wipe out a 13 point Lexington lead. Holdrege climaxed the rally when Brian

Paulson flashed down the base line for a layup which gave Holdrege a 53-52 lead.

Class D: Ulica, Center, Elwood, Ververdon.
Class E: Cody, Phillips, Byron, Weston.

added free throws to make it 55-52.

Lexington pulled it out on two free throws by Kiffin, a long shot by Steve Smith and two more free throws by Mike Hellman.

Holdrege was cold in the first half and finished with a 23.8 field goal percentage, lowest of the season.

Judges Say Guilty Of Monopoly

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge ruled Friday the International Boxing Club was guilty of monopolizing professional championship bouts and that it shut out competitors in an unreasonable restraint of trade.

James D. Norris, president of the IBC, expressed disappointment over the decision and said he hoped it would not interfere with the IBC's present schedule, which includes a middleweight title fight between champion Gene Fullmer and Sugar Ray Robinson in Chicago May 1.

"I hope we will not be prevented from continuing to present our Wednesday and Friday night fights which have proved such popular radio and TV attractions," Norris, in the Caribbean on a business trip, said through his New York office.

Friday's decision, handed down by Judge Sylvester J. Ryan, was the second in the past two weeks hitting at the antitrust aspects of a major sport.

On Feb. 25 the Supreme Court ruled by a vote of 6-3 that professional football is subject to federal antitrust laws. At that time both the majority and the dissenters questioned whether organized baseball should not be put in the same class.

Twice in the past—in 1922 and 1953—the nation's high court has held that baseball was a personal effort and not a trust within the meaning of the law.

Judge Ryan said the government may file proposed decrees in the boxing case within 30 days after which hearings will be held to determine a final court order.

How the government might try to curtail the IBC to bring it within antitrust laws is purely speculative.

Measures might be taken to force the IBC to relinquish some of the big arenas it now controls, to break the organization's exclusive contract arrangement with fighters and to give up one of the two major television contracts it now holds for boxing shows.

At the same time it will be possible for the IBC to make an appeal, first to the Court of Appeals and then to the Supreme Court. Norris, in his statement, hinted this might be done.

Boys Town, South Reach AA Finals

OMAHA (AP) — Boys Town, defending Class AA state basketball champion, and Omaha South advanced to the Saturday finals of the so-called South Omaha regional tourney Friday night.

Boys Town, leading by 18-13 at the half, threw its famed press in full force at Prep in the third period to run the score up to 29-16 and then held on for a 50-48 victory.

Prep never could recover.

Jim Gordon popped in 20 points for Boys Town.

South had little trouble with Omaha Tech, winning 58-45, after taking a 25-17 halftime lead.

Ernest Littlejohn dominated the boards for South while Don Ostronic led the Packer attack with 20 points.

TEXAS WESTERN DROPS OUT OF NCAA PLAYOFFS

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Texas Western College Friday withdrew from the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. basketball playoffs after their high scorer and rebound star, Charles Brown, had been declared ineligible.

Athletic Director Mike Brumelow said he didn't feel like "we had a representative team of the Border Conference any longer."

Texas Western yielded to Hardin-Simmons University, which finished second to the Miners in the Border Conference race. Conference Commissioner Emil Larsen of Tucson, Ariz., was expected to ask the Abilene, Tex., school to represent the conference in a playoff game against Idaho State College at Pocatello, Idaho, Monday night.

Brown was ruled out because of a technicality. He enrolled at Colorado A&M College and attended classes for three days in 1955 and then withdrew from that school. He later enrolled at Texas Western.

The three days at Colorado A&M did not affect his eligibility in the Border Conference but Larsen found an NCAA rule to the effect that if a player transfers from one senior college to another he must have two long semesters of residence before becoming eligible.

7 Huskers Sidelined As Drills Resumed

Seven Nebraska football players were sidelined by the flu Friday afternoon when the Huskers resumed spring football practice.

Inactive since opening on Monday, the NU gridgers had to buck a stiff gale and flying dust but they got in a lengthy session of group work and fundamentals.

Both offense and defense were stressed in the second session. The Huskers will practice again Saturday.

On the sick list Friday were: Stuart Howter, Omaha end; Gene Haman, Omaha fullback; Gary Welton, Louisville end; Norman Welsh, Brule halfback; Max Martz, Beatrice halfback; Duane Buchtel, Clay Center halfback; and Donn Mann, Ulica fullback.

Coach Bill Jennings announced another position change Friday.

Jerry Schroeder, 190-pound sophomore from Grand Island, has been switched from halfback to fullback. Jennings said, "Schroeder has good size and we want to give him a shot at fullback."

Roger Khronek, former Lincoln High star who has been hampered by injuries for the past two seasons, has been given the green-light by doctors and he drew equipment Friday.

Jennings has indicated that Khronek will be tried at both quarterback and halfback, but current plans calls for him to sit out heavy contact work until next fall.

Chiefs Move—Back To Sherman Field

Friday was moving day for the Lincoln Chiefs.

General Manager Dick Wagner transferred the business office from winter quarters in the Chamber of Commerce Building to Sherman Field, from where all baseball business will be conducted until after the close of the 1957 Western League season.

Northeast Seeks AA Ticket Tonight

Lincoln Northeast, 1956 State High School Basketball Tournament runnerup, makes its bid for a repeat journey to the State Tourney tonight in the finals of the Lincoln Class AA district tournament at the PSA Building.

Northeast plays Grand Island at 8 p.m. The winner will gain a spot in the State Tourney and will play next Friday.

Northeast's chore tonight will be to avoid the rash of upsets which has bumped some of the top-rated Class AA teams out of the running for the title.

The Rockets are favored by virtue of a previous 64-41 win over Grand Island.

Grand Island's task will be to shackle Jan Wall, Northeast's high-scoring junior. Wall scored 28 points as the Rockets beat Beatrice 50-35 in the first game of the tournament.

The Rockets must quell long-range shooters Dick Knuth and Ron Seymour, to put the damper on GI.

Three other tournaments wind up tonight, and the 24-team State

Tourney field will then be set.

Omaha Benson and Omaha North, two weak sisters in the Omaha Intercity League, scored first-round upsets in the "North Omaha" regional and will meet in one of two final games at Omaha University.

The other Omaha U. final will follow the North-Benson game.

The Class A tournament at York also finishes Saturday night.

Saturday's district tournament schedule with starting times:

CLASS AA

At Omaha U. (finals)—Omaha Benson vs. Omaha North, 7; Boys Town vs. Omaha South, 8:30.

At Lincoln High (finals)—Grand Island vs. Northeast, 8.

CLASS A

At York (finals)—Lexington vs. Broken Bow, 8.

Different Switch: TV Sponsor, Not Sugar Ray, Postponed Latest Title Bout

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP) — It's what you might call a switch, this postponing of the Ray Robinson-Gene Fullmer middleweight title bout in Chicago to May 1.

Usually, and quite frequently, when a switch in dates of a Robinson bout was made, Robinson was responsible. The Sugar Kid came up with ailments which haven't been invented yet. Now there is a switch in the date, and also in the cause of the switch.

A TV sponsor is responsible this time, thus again demonstrating the power of that medium. Once a promoter sells his show to television, he no longer is his own master. He's in the "Yes sir, Yes sir" category, timing his event at the dictation of the networks or individual stations.

Baseball alone seems to have reached a happy agreement, as television has accommodated itself to the fixed starting times.

Anyway, we doubt the week's postponement in the fight will make much difference in the chances of either man. It has been mentioned that Robinson would benefit by the delay, but we doubt that.

For one thing, their last meeting was only a couple of months ago. Robinson was in the best shape he could get in for that one, having been at his training camp off and on for about six months.

Knowing a return meeting would be coming up shortly, he would be less than bright if he allowed himself to lose too much of that condition, and nobody ever has accused Ray of being less than bright. Maybe too bright sometimes, but never dull.

Right after their Jan. 2 encounter we had the idea that if they met 50 times Fullmer would win

50 times, as Robinson might as well have been punching a rhinoceros as far as inflicting visible damage was concerned.

Sugar Ray poured in some pretty good punches, made no mistakes about that. But Fullmer didn't even blink, and he kept coming in to maul and slug in a manner very distasteful to his harried opponent.

But we've been pondering the question since, and have begun to waver. Now we aren't so sure Fullmer is such a cinch.

A couple of factors have crept into the picture. For one, Fullmer has had two fights since meeting Robinson, and in neither was he a ball of fire. He defeated Ernie Durando and Wilf Greaves by decision, and in the Durando encounter he suffered an eye injury.

If he should suffer an eye cut against Robinson the chances are Ray wouldn't let him get away. With his accurate jabs he would play Yankee doodle on that eye until the referee could stand it no longer and would stop the fight.

For another thing, Robinson learned in the last fight that he can go 15 rounds, and have a little gas left in his tank at the finish.

His best round, in fact, was the 15th. Next time, knowing he can go the limit, he might open up earlier in the fight, when he is stronger. A Robinson flurry is awesome to see, and we can't forget how quickly such an attack disintegrated Randy Turpin when Ray saw his chances fading because of a badly cut eye.

Maybe we're still seeing Robinson in his glory days. After all, Fullmer beat him. We aren't picking Robinson. At least not yet. But if our memory of the great Sugar Ray doesn't quit nudging us we're liable to wind up doing just that.

Sooner Swimmers Take Wide Lead In Big 7 Meet

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma's Sooners splashed steadily toward their sixth straight Big Seven Conference swimming championship Friday, winning 6 of 8 events. Seven other final events are scheduled today.

This smash performance gave Oklahoma 86 points with Iowa State a distant runnerup with 48. Trailing in order are Nebraska 30, Colorado 26, Kansas 19 and Kansas State 11. Missouri does not compete.

Butterfly stroker Dick Thatcher won his specialty at 200 yards and added the 200 individual medley title to set the pace as the day's only double winner.

Only break in the Sooners' racing monopoly came in the 100 yard breaststroke when Iowa State's Ron Minarik nosed out Julian Dyason of Oklahoma in pool record time of 1:05.9. Dyason had trimmed the pool mark to 1:06.5 in prelims Friday morning.

The other non-Sooner victory went to Iowa State diver Dale Wasmuth who edged Nebraska's Bill Tagney in the low board event.

Bob Leonard of Oklahoma erased the oldest Big Seven record on the books when he won the 50-yard freestyle prelim in :22.9, beating the previous mark of 23 seconds set by Bob Brown of Iowa State in 1952. Leonard set the finals in :23.1.

Fritz Helmsdorf, Nebraska, finished sixth in the 200 yard butterfly; Paul Schorr, sixth in the 200 backstroke; Gene Cotter, fourth in the one meter dive; Jerry Fafell and John Holeman, fifth and sixth in the 200 yard individual medley; Carl Bodensteiner and William North, fourth and fifth in the 1,500 meter free style.

Nebraska's 400 yard free style relay team was fourth.

BYARS UPSETS HART

NEW YORK (AP) — Walt Byars, a clever, shifty little welterweight from Boston turned in one of the big fistic upsets of the year Friday night by outpointing 5-1 favored Garnett "Sugar" Hart of Philadelphia at Madison Square Garden. Byars weighed 144½, Hart 415½.

The surprise victory stretched the New England welterweight champion's unbeaten streak to 11 and snapped Hart's winning streak at 12. Hart, holder of a 20-1 record until Friday night, had swept his last seven by knockouts.

Tears rolled down Byars' cheeks when the unanimous decision in his favor was announced. Then he started smiling, just as he did throughout the bout when he made the hard-hitting 21-year-old Sugar miss time after time. Referee Ruby Goldstein let it 6-2-2, Judge Joe Agnello 7-3, and Judge Bill Recht 8-0 with two even. The Associated Press had Byars in front 7-2-1.

Rookies, Vets Loosen Up As Grapefruit Loop Opens

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press
 Five months after Johnny Kucks shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers to win another world championship for the New York Yankees, the 16 big league ball clubs are ready to take the field today in the 1957 exhibition openers in Florida and Arizona.

More than 30 rookie pitchers and a surprising number of veterans are slated to work on this first day of the six-week "warmup" program.

Kucks, who blanked Brooklyn 9-0 in the World Series' seventh game last Oct. 10, is one of the experienced moundsmen scheduled to open the exhibition season. The others are Warren Hacker and Art Fowler of Cincinnati, Bob Rush and Jackie Collum of the Chicago Cubs, Jack Meyer of Philadelphia, Ralph Branca of Brooklyn, Herm Wehmeier of St. Louis, Erv Palica of Baltimore and Dean Stone of Washington.

Rookie righthanders Al Cicotte and Jim Coates, both up from Richmond, are expected to follow Kucks against the Cardinals at St. Petersburg, Fla. St. Louis will follow Wehmeier with bonus pitcher

Lindy McDaniel (7-6) and Bob Smith, 8-11 for San Francisco.

Hacker and Fowler will face three Chicago White Sox youngsters at Tampa, Fla. Hacker, who was obtained from the Cubs in a winter trade, was 3-13 last year and Fowler was 11-11 for the Redlegs. The White Sox trio is Tom Flanagan, 9-5, at Memphis, Bill Dufour, 10-10 at Memphis, and Jim Dearington, a 17-year-old bonus southpaw.

At Clearwater, Fla., Meyer, 7-11 as a reliever, Don Cardwell, 15-7 for Miami and Jack Sanford, a military service returnee, will work for Philadelphia against Pittsburgh. The Pirates will offer Bob Purkey, 6-8 for Hollywood, Art Swanson and Laurin Pepper. Swanson had no decisions with the Bucs last year and Pepper was 1-1.

Branca, seeking to come back after several failures, will be one of four Brooklyn pitchers against Milwaukee in a night game at Miami Don Drysdale, 5-5, Sandy Foufax, 2-4, and Fred Kipp, a 20-game winner at Montreal are the others. Joey Jay, Humberto Robinson and Don McMahon, three Wichita farmhands, will toil for the Braves. Jay was 6-9 in 1956, Robinson 9-9 and McMahon 4-4.

Stone, a left-hander with a 5-7 mark last season, will be joined by Bud Byerly, 2-4 and Evelio Hernandez, 18-4 for Charlotte, N.C. against the Kansas City A's at Orlando, Fla. Ed Blake, George Brunet and Ken Johnson will pitch against Washington. Blake won 17 games and dropped 11 for Toronto, Johnson was 12-9 at Columbia, S.C. and Brunet, 7-2 at Crowley, La.

In another Grapefruit League game at Sarasota, Fla., the Detroit Tigers will send Paul Foytack, a 15-game winner, and Don Lee against the Boston Red Sox. Lee, son of Thornton Lee, former Chicago White Sox lefty, had a 7-3 record for Augusta, Ga. last year. Two holdovers, Dave Sisler, 9-8, George Susce, 2-4, and a rookie, Bert Thiel 18-11 for Dallas, will pitch for Boston.

At Tucson, Ariz., Manager Bill Rigney, hoping to find a pitching "pearl" among his numerous rookies, will send Pete Burnside, 5-9 for Minneapolis, Gordon Jones 13-8 at Omaha, and Joe Shipley, 8-19 for Johnstown, Pa., against Cleveland. The Indians have Hank Aguirre, 3-5, Cal McLish, 2-4 and Stan Pitula, 15-4 for Indianapolis, listed for action.

Rush, who won 13 games in '56, Collum, and Gene Fodge will oppose the Baltimore Orioles at Mesa, Ariz. Collum, was 6-2 for St. Louis which dealt him to the Cubs last December. Fodge won 19 games for Los Angeles. The Orioles will throw Palica, 4-11, Charley Locke and Fred Besana against Chicago. Besana was 1-13 at Vancouver and Locke 2-9 with the same club.

Most of the clubs will remain close to their training bases for the next few weeks.

Six teams, including Lincoln High, Lincoln Northeast and Lincoln Southeast from the Capital City will square off today at the University of Nebraska Physical Education building for the state gymnastics title.

Outside of the three Lincoln schools, Beatrice, Hastings and Omaha Benson are slated to perform. Grand Island has a team in the novice division of the meet.

Lincoln High is defending champion but Northeast is favored to grab the title this year.

Coach Tom Kidd's Rockets are undefeated this season and just last week walked off with the city gymnastics title.

Northeast features a pair of top-notch performers in Hans Bruchardt, an all-around ace and Gene Barkley, trampoline and tumbling specialist.

Other top gymnasts in the meet will be Lincoln High's Duane Strough, Hastings' Bob Hoffman and Southeast's Virgil Kubert.

Bob Costello Quits Post At St. Bon's

Lincoln Star Special
 COLUMBUS—Bob Costello, head coach at St. Bonaventure high school, has resigned his position effective at the close of the current school year.

Costello, now in his fourth year at the school, said Friday that he plans to continue in the coaching field but will not have an announcement as to future plans until a later date.

The Rev. Fr. Roch Hettinger, O.F.M., pastor, slated that Charles Wolever, who joined the St. Bonaventure staff this year after previously coaching at Silver Creek, will take over the head coaching position for the 1957-58 term.

Another man will be added to the coaching staff, but a selection has not yet been made.

Costello has been head basketball coach at St. Bonaventure for four years, and head mentor in football and track two years after previously assisting Cletus Fischer in those sports. Fischer is now head grid coach at Omaha South.

A graduate of Lincoln Cathedral high school, Costello received his B.A. at the University of Nebraska, where he was a football and basketball letterman.

He is married and the father of four children.

Ramblers Tip Falls City For State Berth

PLATTSMOUTH (AP)—Defending Class A Nebraska state basketball champion Falls City fell by the wayside Friday night when Omaha Holy Name beat the champs, 50-43, in the regional final and won a state tourney spot.

Holy Name grabbed a quick five point lead and the closest Falls City could get after that was 15-12 at the end of the first quarter. Holy Name, paced by Bob Eichholt who got 16 points in the first half and not a single point in the second half, held a 31-20 half-time bulge.

Jim Poage led Falls City with 18. Omaha Holy Name 31 19-50 Falls City 12 15-20

WHITE HOUSE AGAIN OKs PAN-AM GAMES

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House was reported to have reiterated its support Friday for federal spending on the Pan American Games in Cleveland. But Sen. Lausche (D-Ohio) said he still opposes it.

That was the outcome of a meeting at the White House conducted by Howard Pyle, administrative assistant to President Eisenhower, for a group of the games' sponsors and interested Ohio congressmen.

Emerging from that meeting, Lausche told newsmen: "Nothing has thus far developed that has changed my position."

A former Cleveland mayor, Lausche has consistently opposed a White House-approved proposal to spend five million dollars in federal money on the games, scheduled to be held in Cleveland in 1959.

Lausche — and several Ohio House members — have said that in these days of high government costs such an expenditure would be unessential. The majority of the Ohio congressional delegation, including Sen. Bricker, have supported the proposal with varying degrees of enthusiasm.

Cleveland Mayor Anthony J.

Celebrezze told reporters after Friday's White House conference that the Eisenhower administration still wants the games. The events, billed as the Olympics of the Western Hemisphere, never have been held before in this country.

Sponsors figure the entire cost will be 13 million dollars, and are counting on Cleveland, Cuyahoga County and Ohio to supply the balance.

Waverly Nips Palmyra At Gun, 48-47

SEWARD—Waverly waited until the last second to make the grade, but did earn a spot in the state high school basketball field at Lincoln.

With a single second left to play, Len Quathamer popped in a pair of free throws to give Waverly a 48-47 decision over Palmyra in the Class C district cage finals here Friday night.

It was a thriller from gun to gun with Palmyra leading most of the way. The two clubs entered the last quarter tied, 37-37. After Chuck Stoner cracked a 42-42 deadlock with a free toss, Palmyra kept in front until the last second.

Quathamer led all scoring with 21 points. Martin Kelly paced the battling Palmyra team with 19.

Fans Hoping For Record From Ron Delany Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Ron Delany, Charlie Jenkins, Tom Courtney and Co. make their final 1957 appearance in Madison Square Garden in the Knights of Columbus Games tonight.

This is a meet which almost didn't come off. When K-of-C officials found early in the year that all the Garden meets had been pushed back a week and that theirs would conflict with the Milwaukee Journal Games, they were discouraged.

Then, Tom Harrigan, the meet director, became ill and they began thinking seriously of calling it off. But Fordham University Coach Artie O'Connor stepped in ARAPAHOE (AP)—Alma captured the Nebraska Class C regional basketball crown and a trip to the state tourney by whipping Trenton, 69-52, Friday night.

It was the first defeat for Trenton in 25 starts this season. Thursday night Trenton had upset Hastings St. Cecilia, top ranked Class C team over the regular season.

Alma led, 32-20, at the half.

Four Lincoln Teams In ABC Tourney

FORT WORTH, Tex. — The lanes have been polished to glistening perfection, new automatic pinspotters installed and all is in readiness for the 54th annual American Bowling Congress tournament, which opens a 51 day run today in the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum.

Lincoln teams participating in the event include Gatto's Drive In, I-GO Van and Storage, Pepsi Cola and the National Bank of Commerce squads.

When the last tenpin tumbles on April 28, more than 15,000 men will have fired away at a prize bonanza of $220,000.

The 1957 extravaganza, the first ever held in the Southwest, has attracted competitors from 44 states, tying a record established in 1953 at Chicago. Other entrants will come from the District of Columbia, Canada and Alaska. A total of 3,056 teams are entered, 1,503 in the Open and 1,553 in the Booster division.

While the battle for supremacy is generally wide open, a hotly-contested fight looms in the open team event. Defending champions are the Chicago Falstaffs ably led by the sensational Bill Lillard who also captured the 1956 all events title and shared the doubles crown with teammate Stan Gifford.

Chief threat to the Falstaffs is expected to come from the St. Louis Budweisers which boast such standouts as Don Carter, Dick Weber and Ray Bluth. The Buds are current national team

Verdon Quintet Whips Otoe For D Meet Spot

Lincoln Star Special
 PERU — A desperation shot in the last seconds of the game failed as Otoe fell at the hands of the Verdon quintet, 55-54, in the finals of the Class D district tournament here Friday night.

The victory for Verdon gives the winners an invitation to the State Basketball Tourney next week.

Verdon jumped to a 13-6 first quarter, hitting 60 percent of it's shots. Otoe warmed up in the second period but found the Verdon five had racked up too big of a lead. The first half ended with Verdon still on top of a 27-20 score.

The intermission didn't cool off the Verdon team. In the first five minutes Verdon made 80 per cent of its shots from the field. The Verdon five raced to a 35-22 lead with 5:29 remaining in the third canto for the biggest lead of the evening.

The Otoe team, paced by Roger Witt, caught Verdon off guard in the opening minutes of the last period and began to slice the lead. With five minutes left in the game, Verdon still led, 49-42. Then Witt pumped in six quick points to pull Otoe within one point of Verdon.

Verdon gained control of the ball and the next minutes saw many of the Verdon boys walk to the free throw line. The last six points for the winners were scored by charity tosses.

Otoe still with a spark left, brought the score to 55-52. Duane Hillman intercepted a Verdon pass with 45 seconds left and drove in for two points. The Otoe five gained control once again with seconds and tried a final shot. The shot failed and big Darrel Fisher, Verdon's high with 24, grabbed the rebound.

Otoe 54 6 14 22 12-54
 Verdon 55 13 14 22 8-55

 Loser's high: Roger Witt, 25.

TAR HEELS PRESSED BY DEACONS, 61-59

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Upstart South Carolina smothered second-seeded Maryland 74-64 Friday night to gain the finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball tournament along with unbeaten North Carolina. Their meeting tonight will decide the conference title and Yale's opponent in the first round of the Eastern NCAA regional tournament in New York Tuesday night.

Gangling Grady Wallace supplied the South Carolina winning spark with a 31-point performance that brought his two-game total to 72 points, only seven off the tourney record for three games.

North Carolina, the nation's No. 1 team, made it 26 straight with a 61-59 victory over Wake Forest on three points by All-America Lennie Rosenbluth with 46 seconds to go. The Tar Heels have beaten South Carolina twice this season, once in overtime.

Wallace fouled out with 64 seconds left, the first break in the starting lineup of the Gamecocks, sixth place finishers in the regular conference season. They began their tournament drive by upsetting third-seeded Duke Thursday.

North Carolina's winning streak wavered in the balance when the second of two foul goals by red-headed Jim Gilley, Wake Forest center, trickled through the nets to put the Deacons ahead 59-58 with 55 seconds to play. That was the first time since the opening minute that North Carolina had trailed.

Twice in the first half the tall Tar Heels led by 11 points and three times in the last half by eight. But the doughy Deacons put on a finish that had the capacity crowd of more than 12,000 roaring through the last five minutes.

Wall, Thomson Tie For Golf Lead

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Art Wall Jr. sank the long ones Friday to gain a tie with Australian Peter Thomson in the second round of the $15,000 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament.

The former Duke University basketball and golf star dropped a 25-foot putt on the 17th and also canned 20 and 14-footers in carding a four-under-par 68 to go with his opening-day 70.

The steady Thomson, three-time winner of the British Open, duplicated his first round—69 for a 36-hole total of 138, six under par.

Paul O'Leary, Bismarck, N.D., co-leader Thursday with Mike Fetick at 68, was two strokes back of Wall and Thomson after shooting a par 72 on the 6,325-yard Pensacola Country Club course.

Rev. King Labeled A 'Misleader' By Former Communist

NEGROES REJECTED RED PROGRAM, PROBERS TOLD

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—A Negro ex-Communist Friday labeled the Rev. Martin Luther King "a dastardly misleader, leading the Negroes of the South down to destruction and bloodshed."

Manning Johnson, former Communist leader from New York, said the anti-segregation movement led by the Montgomery, Ala., Negro minister "could lead to Communism in the South."

"I think Rev. King could stand a close investigation," Johnson told the Louisiana Legislative Committee on Segregation, probing influences behind racial unrest.

Speaking of King's explanation of the purpose of the Negro mass movement that led to the U.S. Supreme court decision outlawing bus segregation, Johnson said: "This explanation is the same as that of the Communist party. I wonder who is giving him the party line."

He almost shouted as he asked: "If 10,000 Negroes lose their homes, will Rev. King build them new homes? If 5,000 Negroes lose their jobs, will Rev. King be there to help them find new jobs?"

Lacks Leadership
"I'm not saying Rev. King is a Communist, but I am saying he is doing the Negroes harm. He has not the leadership, not the wisdom or qualifications to lead the Negroes in the South at this time."

"He has the Negroes worked up and ready to follow him. Someone told him he is a modern Moses. I don't think so. Neither do I think he is a modern Gandhi."

King stresses non-violence. He led a boycott of Montgomery buses and sparked legal action against bus segregation. King is president of the Southern Leadership Conference attempting to establish a similar movement over the entire South.

Johnson and Leonard Patterson, another Negro ex-Communist from New York, testified the Communist party had been trying to infiltrate the Negro churches since 1929.

Johnson said Communists favored the churches in the South as a target because they provided a cloak of respectability and a place to hide from police investigations.

"When a cry arose against the law investigators," he added, "the agents thus created sympathy for their case. The Communists were very clever in this."

The committee hearing in a state capitol courtroom was less than half full when the hearings opened Thursday. But an overflow audience was present Friday.

The crowd was all white until shortly before the noon break, when four Negroes walked in, including the Rev. T. J. Jemison, Baptist minister who heads a group that filed a lawsuit to knock out bus segregation in Baton Rouge.

Jemison, an executive in the Southern Leadership Conference headed by the Rev. Martin Luther King of Montgomery, Ala., had no comment of the testimony.

"The bulk of the Negro people were in the churches, so the Communist party gave them priority," explained Patterson, a North Carolina native.

He said the use of Communist Negro front groups was tried during the 1930s, but failed. The party has centered on the churches and the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, he said.

"This technique was to get into the churches and win over some of the local people," Patterson said.

In answer to a question whether they had any success, he replied, "Oh, yes, the Communist party has been able to infiltrate Negro churches in the South, in the North and all over the United States."

'Actual Value' Bill Passes

The Legislature Friday passed 35-2 and sent to the governor a bill revising the formula for assessing property taxes in Nebraska.

The measure, LB 339, in effect calls for no change in assessment levels. It does eliminate use of the term "basic value" in determining the value of property for assessment purposes.

At present, the "basic value" of property is calculated at 70 per cent of its actual value. For tax purposes, property then is assessed at 50 per cent of "basic value."

Under the new bill, which is not effective for the current year, factors now used to determine "basic value" would be used to determine "actual value" and assessment would be made at 35 per cent of actual value.

Other bills passed:
LB 209—Correcting a liquor law to harmonize with another statute. (39-0).

LB 303—Requiring reports to Agriculture and Inspection Department by transporters of motor vehicle fuels. (39-0).

Paper Route Profits Net Bike, Sports Equipment

Larry Marcotte of 1369 No. 40th, a veteran Star carrier-salesman on Route 660, has recently acquired a bicycle and 12 gauge J. C. Higgins pump.

In his more than 2½ years of dependable service, he has built his route up to include 92 customers.

With the profit from his route, Larry has purchased a spinning rod and reel, much sports equipment, and some savings bonds. He also has a growing savings account to enable him to attend engineering college.

Larry is 14 and in the ninth grade at Lincoln Northeast. At school, he especially likes electrical shop and gym classes. Football is his favorite sport and last year he was a member of a mid-get team. This season he was a regular ninth grade team member.

Fishing, Hunting

Whenever he can, he goes fishing and hunting and admits that purchasing shells and other equipment creates quite a drain on his finances.

Larry's main hobby is electronics and he likes to dabble in photography. Buying developing and other photographic equipment and supplies also puts quite a pinch on his budget.

In wood-working shop last semester he built a work bench for his electronics hobby. Larry also plans to join the amateur radio club.

State Fair Ribbon

Last year he won a red ribbon at the State Fair for his 4-H insect collection. Larry regularly attends Warren Methodist Church.

The customers on Larry's route say he manages his business perfectly and they feel he should be treated with all the respect of any business man.

Larry likes his early morning route because it allows him to have all his afternoons free. His mother says that the opportunity of meeting and dealing with people has been invaluable in developing his personality.

Any boy interested in a morning paper route should apply at The Star circulation department, 926 P, Lincoln, Neb.

UNICAMERAL DEFERS ACTION ON TEACHER CERTIFICATION

The Unicameral Friday deferred until Monday a decision on a motion to allow introduction of a new bill redefining teacher certification laws.

Some senators objected to the late introduction of a bill of such magnitude. Sen. A. A. Fenske said "a little railroading" would appear to be involved.

The Education Committee proposed the introduction of the new bill, which would replace three pending measures, LBs 67, 68 and 369.

Much Amendment

The committee said those three bills would require such voluminous amendment that a new bill covering the entire ground is desirable.

The proposed legislation would reduce to 14 the number of different kinds of teacher certificates.

State laws now provide for 68 kinds, according to Sen. Don Thompson, Education Committee chairman.

At His Request

The motion to allow introduction of the new bill was laid over until Monday at Sen. Thompson's request.

Sen. Kathleen Foote, a co-introducer of the certification bills, said no radical changes are envisioned.

The new bill was designed only to get away from the confusion of amendments and to help legislators and citizens know just what is involved, she said.

Diesel Fuel Tax

The Legislature also deferred a decision on Sen. Terry Carpenter's move to amend a bill so as to tighten laws on collection of diesel fuel taxes.

Carpenter said he lacked any definite information but speculated that a half million dollars a year in property taxes probably are being lost to the state by evasion of taxes on diesel fuels.

His lengthy proposed amendment to LB 217, he said, only strengthens the machinery for reporting and collecting those taxes.

LB 217 is a routine Judiciary Committee bill suggested by the revisor of statutes to harmonize certain laws relating to motor vehicle fuel taxes on buses.

Senators Advance Bill Making More Vehicles Permit-Exempt

A bill increasing by one foot the height of vehicles allowed to use Nebraska highways without a special permit was one of eight measures to which the Legislature gave initial approval Friday.

That bill is LB 488, which would increase from 12½ to 13½ feet the height of vehicles not required to obtain special permits.

Over-height farm vehicles in casual daylight movement also would be exempt.

Liability for Damage

Operators of vehicles over 12½ feet high would be liable for damage to underpasses, however, under the bill introduced by Senators Mervin Bedford and Arthur Swanson.

Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh contended the bill attempts to do "piece-meal" what the trucking industry has been trying to accomplish in recent legislative sessions.

But Sen. Bedford said a State Highway Department representative had okayed the legislation. The measure advanced from general file on a voice vote.

Five of the other bills advanced were routine Judiciary Committee bills merely correcting statutes.

The other two:

LB 125 — making county employees liable for their negligence while operating county vehicles, but requiring the county to carry liability insurance on such employees.

LB 305 — making civil service commissions mandatory for police in cities of 5,000 to 40,000 and optional in smaller cities at the discretion of electors.

'Successful Vaccine' Found Against Natural Cancer

HOUSTON, Tex. (INS) — A U.S. Department of Agriculture scientist Friday reported the "first successful vaccination" against natural cancer.

Dr. B. R. Burmester of the department's research service, East Lansing, Mich., said the vaccine was used against forms of leukemia — the incurable blood cancer — that kills chickens.

The report, given at the 11th annual cancer symposium of the University of Texas, was immediately hailed by leading cancer experts.

Dr. Albert Sabin, University of Cincinnati virus specialist, said the work showed at least one kind of cancer "follows perfectly the pattern of infectious diseases."

'Strong Support'

Dr. Wendell Stanley, Nobel prize-winning scientist from the University of California, said the report lends "strong support" to the theory that virus agents may be involved in cancer causation.

Dr. Burmester said the vaccine was prepared just like the Salk "killed virus" vaccines. Mother hens were given an injection to raise the bloodstream level of cancer-fighting antibodies.

The mother hens in turn passed on these chemical fighters through the eggs to their unborn chicks.

Dr. Burmester said the vaccine was 100 per cent effective in raising the mother hens' antibodies level.

'More Resistant'

He said the protected chicks were "five thousand times more resistant" to experimental doses of leukemia virus than were the unprotected ones.

The experiments are good news to the nation's poultry breeders, who lose an estimated $75 million worth of chickens annually due to this form of blood cancer. Of more direct concern to man, Dr. Burmester and other scientists who heard his report say the experiments "demonstrate the principle" of treating at least some forms of cancer as a virus-caused disease and attempting to conquer it with a vaccine.

Sponsors of the meeting stressed the report was the first dealing with a successful vaccination against a natural occurring cancer. Previous experiments had either failed or had been successful against artificially-grown test-tube cancers.

F. E. Gillen Estate Inventory $164,868

The estate of Frank E. Gillen, a retired Lincoln businessman who died Jan. 19, 1956, was valued at $164,868.20 by an inventory filed in Lancaster County Court.

Principal items were 240 shares, Gillen & Boney Building Co., $48,000; Incorporated Investors, 1,232 shares, $23,346; Union Stockyards of Omaha, 100 shares, $11,158; U. S. bonds, $15,000; and cash, $20,279.89.

Mr. Gillen was living in Los Angeles at his death.

The estate was left to his three sons, Frank R. and Irvin F. of Lincoln and Ronald B. of Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Mrs. Sarah Mara Of Ceresco Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Mara, 85, of Ceresco, will be held 9:30 a.m. Monday at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Davey.

Mrs. Mara died Friday in Lincoln.

The Rev. Max DeWitt will officiate at the funeral. Burial will be in St. Patrick's Cemetery at Davey.

A resident of the state since 1883, Mrs. Mara was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Davey.

Besides her children, Mrs. Mara also reared two of her grandchildren, Dwain R. Nelson of York and Mary Rita Robinson of Lincoln.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. W. F. Downing of Lincoln; sons, Dan J. of Grand Island, John J. of Ceresco, William F. of Lincoln, Richard T. of Portland, Ore., and Henry of Lincoln; nine grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Car Found

HOLLISTER, Calif. (AP) — Businessman Joe Felice bragged about his small and lightweight foreign-built station wagon.

It was stolen in front of his home and recovered — inside the San Benito County High School library — where someone had carried it.

Corn Reserve Deadline Day 'Very Quiet'

Friday's deadline for sign-ups under the 1957 corn acreage reserve program brought only 56 applicants into the Lancaster County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

Compared with a busy week when more than 100 farmers visited the office daily, the final sign-up day was "very quiet," according to the office staff.

The deadline applied to sign-ups, terminations and alterations of farmer agreements under the 1957 soil bank plan.

Robert Webb of the state ASC office commented that "no last minute rush" was in evidence across the state, but that farmers had been signing up "in a steady amount" since budget limitations were taken off the acreage program.

Rial Sentenced

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The Navy Ministry announced Rear Adm. Arturo Rial, naval undersecretary, has been sentenced to 30 days in detention for letting his private letters to President Aramburu leak out to the public.

Rial was a key figure in the revolution that ousted the Peron dictatorship in September, 1955.

Rial had been considered one of the most powerful men in the Argentine navy and a bulwark of the Aramburu provisional government.
